COUNCIL GRAPPLES WITH MANCHURIAN PROBLEM

Four Entered Now In Mayoralty Contest Keen Fight Looms As Anscomb Says He Will Retire

Ex-Aldermen E. B. Andros and David Leeming, E. S. Woodward and Frank Le Roy Definitely in the Running With Alderman R. T. Williams as Prospective Fifth; Anscomb to Enter Private Business and Will Not Seek Fourth Term; Ratepayers' Association Split Over Candidates

Victoria's civic election situation developed startling changes over the week-end. Out of a maze of announcements, rumors and cross-currents there are now twenty-nine candidates in the field for eleven offices, more than have been in the field for seven years.

Chief among the developments was the announcement that Mayor Herbert Anscomb would not seek re-election. The Mayor is retiring to enter private business or practice his profession.

Other factors having a direct bearing on the campaign were:

A split in the ranks of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, probably leading to the definite entry of Alderman R. T. Williams as a mayoralty candidate.

Announcement of Ex-Alderman David Leeming and E. B. Andros in the mayoralty race, bringing the field to four.

An increase of the council field to fifteen with the addition of Dr. J. D. Hunter, Walter Dandridge, Frederick Smith and Alderman John Worthington.

A four-corner political commission contest with Ex-Commissioner Walter E. Stansland and Commissioner Andrew McGavin running.

Following is a list of present candidates:

For Mayor
Ex-Alderman E. S. Woodward.
Frank Le Roy.
David Leeming.
Ex-Alderman E. B. Andros.
For Alderman
Alderman Alex. Peden.
Alderman Robert Smith.
Alderman John Worthington.
W. H. Kinsman.
Ex-Alderman John Harvey.
Capt. B. G. Gadsden.
John Hall.
Adolph Lancaster.
J. H. McConnell.
E. J. Wakeman.
W. D. Todd.
Mrs. Alice McGregor.
Walter Dandridge.
Dr. J. D. Hunter.
Frederick Smith.

For School Trustees
Trustee Victor Emery.
Trustee J. S. McMillan.
Mrs. Julia de Blaquiere.
Lieut.-Col. T. B. Monk.
John Wood.
J. M. Campbell.

For Police Commissioner
Dr. Stanley P. Miles.
Walter E. Stansland.
Roland H. Powell.
Commissioner Andrew McGavin.

Greatest interest, of course, centres on the mayoralty, especially since Mayor Anscomb's decision to retire from the field. The Mayor explained he could not devote his whole time to the office in future, and felt that, if re-elected, he could not do full justice to the task. His decision caused surprise among many of his friends, who felt assured he would seek a fourth term.

TWO ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mayor Anscomb's withdrawal was immediately followed by the entry of two candidates into the field. David Leeming, a former alderman, and president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, stated he would seek the office and announce his policy later.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED FOR DOMINION SERVICE LOAN

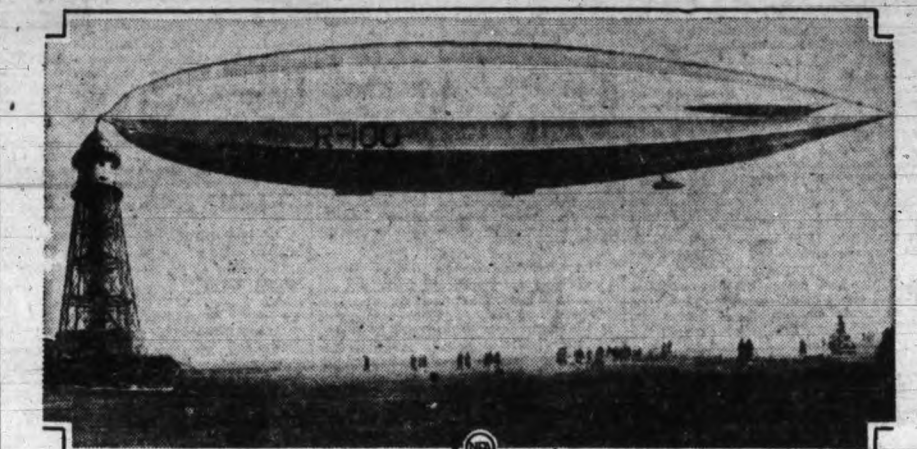

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—Preparations for the Dominion of Canada National Service Loan, which will probably be launched November 23, are progressing satisfactorily. The committees which will have charge of the campaign have been announced.

Although no official statement has been made, the indications are the new loan will mature, the first series in five years and the second series in ten years. It is believed there will be no longer issue than ten years.

The coming loan is looked on as a form of temporary financing, to be repaid, if possible, within the lifetime of the generation which borrowed the money. As there will be a substantial refinancing programme in 1933 and 1934, when large war loans mature, the five and ten-year terms will doubtless be decided on, as it has been the practice to have the year-terms of loans divisible by five. It is said the ministers do not want to add to the fixed charges of government any longer than is absolutely necessary.

One of the important committees announced yesterday evening by Hon.

JUNKED BY GREAT BRITAIN—DIRIGIBLE R-100

London, Nov. 16.—The dirigible R-100, which made a trip to Canada and back in the fall of 1930, is being sold as scrap metal. The Air Ministry today announced a bid had been accepted and that the ship would soon be dismantled and sold, all but the engine and fabric. The selling price was not disclosed. The R-100 cost more than $2,000,000. After the loss of the R-101 there was widespread agitation for discontinuance of dirigibles as units of Great Britain's forces, and soon after the R-101 had crashed the R-100 was retired from active service. It was on the recommendation of the Air Ministry that the decision to scrap the big ship was made. In Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden's last budget speech as Chancellor of the Exchequer it was disclosed the dirigible must go in the interests of economy.

New Zealand Wants Early Trade Pact With Canada

Minister of Finance Tells of Request to Ottawa For Conference; Next Move Awaits General Election Result

Canadian Press via Reuters
Wellington, N.Z., Nov. 16.—Hon. Downie Stewart, Minister of Finance and Customs, today said New Zealand was so eager to reach a trade agreement with Canada that, prior to the general election campaign, it had opened negotiations with Canada by cable in an effort to advance matters to a point where normal trade relations might be established pending a more complete settlement.

It had been planned to work out a temporary agreement by cable to be followed by a more detailed pact to be reached at the earliest possible moment, Mr. Stewart said.

HONORABLE PROPOSAL

In its reply to the New Zealand Government's cable note, the Canadian Government asked the earliest moment at which Mr. Stewart could meet the Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce at Honolulu. Mr. Stewart replied he could leave this month. The date for the general election in New Zealand (December 2) was set in the meantime and the situation was left as before.

Mr. Stewart said he presumed Canada was awaiting the result of the New Zealand election before taking any further steps. He had done his best to expedite matters, he said, and had even cabled twice for a reply to this message.

Others named were: Charles Humphreys, who served in Bell and Harlan counties, said he would take immediate steps to return Mr. Dreiser and his companions for trial in Bell County.

WEST LEADS IMPROVEMENT

Taking Every Advantage of Building Up New Business, Says Expert

Construction Work Up to September $50,000, But Below Requirements

Business conditions throughout the west show improvement and there is certainly a definite tendency to go forward and take advantage in all possible ways of business that can be secured or built up, John F. Sweeting, industrial commissioner of western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, says in an industrial outlook in western Canada received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

DEARTH OF HOUSES

Western construction work up to the end of September is valued at just under $50,000,000, Mr. Sweeting says. Construction has certainly not met requirements in many lines; and while there has been a fair number of residences constructed, there is still a dearth of modern houses available. During the balance of the year construction will, it appears, largely consist of the various relief schemes, covering new bridges, drainage and road building extensions, together with some public buildings. Manitoba has two major contracts in the construction of the new science building for the University of Manitoba and the rebuilding of the Salter Street bridge in Winnipeg, both of these projects costing over $1,000,000 each.

Simon Says Britain Gives Its Full Support To Uphold Authority of the League

Board At Work Again On Scheme For St. Lawrence
With M. Briand in Chair, Council Meets in Paris for Great Test on Japanese-Chinese Dispute in Manchuria; Ambassador Dawes, Representing U.S., Will Take Seat if Kellogg Pact Is Invoked

Canadian Press
Paris, Nov. 16.—The League of Nations Council resumed its deliberations on the Manchurian conflict here late today as the time limit fixed for Japanese evacuation expired with Japanese troops still occupying territory outside the treaty area.

The Council met in the gilded "Clock Hall" of the French Foreign Office and Foreign Minister Aristide Briand was in the chair.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary of Great Britain, and Bernhard von Buelow, German delegate, sat for the first time. Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese Ambassador to France, was in his place again despite the presence here of his secretary, Tameo Matsudaira, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain. The Japanese spokesman looked more weary than usual and the Chinese delegate, Dr. Alfred Sze, was bland, but nervous.

POSITION OF BRITAIN

Sir John Simon announced on behalf of Great Britain that he would lend his fullest co-operation to "uphold the moral authority of the League."

Herr von Buelow said he hoped he would be able to help in reaching a happy solution.

PRIVATE SESSIONS

The public meeting lasted twenty minutes. The Council then adjourned, it being explained more time was needed for private negotiations.

M. Briand told the Council, in private session this afternoon, that U.S. Ambassador Charles G. Dawes would take a seat in the Council if the Kellogg Pact should again be invoked in consideration of the Manchurian dispute.

M. Briand implied the council would probably invoke the Kellogg Pact very soon, and said he understood Brigadier-General Dawes was ready to sit with the Council with the approval of his government, when the Council repeated its action of four weeks ago, putting the Kellogg Pact formally into effect.

MRS. J. H. TODD, WELL-KNOWN PIONEER, DIES

Widow of Pioneer Merchant Passed Away Yesterday at "Leasowes"

Came to Victoria as Bride in 1873; Active Member of St. John's

After being in failing health for the last six months, Mrs. Rosanna Todd, widow of Jacob Hunter Todd, and resident of Victoria since 1873, passed away quietly yesterday afternoon at her home, "Leasowes," Fairfield Road, at the advanced age of ninety-two years. Her passing removed a picturesque and beloved figure from the ranks of the well-known pioneer families of the city.

A woman of great charm and intellect, Mrs. Todd seemed to have discovered the secret of perpetual youth, not only retaining all her faculties undiminished but evincing an alert and youthful interest in affairs of the day to the very last. One of her most recent observations was to compare the present period of depression with the aftermath of the Napoleonic wars which she experienced as a young girl in England.

"Arrangements were made for the immediate reburial of the joint engineering board with a view to insuring agreement on the general form of development to be undertaken in the international section of the St. Lawrence River, as well as some divergence of views existed in the 1926 report of the board."

"An exchange of views took place as to the allocation of work to be done in the international section. It was stated by the representatives of both countries."

BY-ELECTION IN ALBERTA

Red Deer, Alta., Nov. 16.—Voters of the Red Deer provincial constituency today were casting ballots to select a representative to succeed G. W. Smith, U.F.A. and government supporter, who died recently.

With the proportional representation system in force and four candidates seeking election, it is expected two counts will be required before the winner is declared. The candidates are: Bannerman, Liberal; R. M. Gatz, U.F.A.; W. E. Payne, K.C. Conservative; and F. G. Bray, Communist.

The campaign was strenuously fought, with Premier J. E. Brownlee and leaders of other parties taking part.

HOMESICK, SO SHE STARTS FOR ATLANTIC TRIP

Wellesley, Mass., Nov. 16.—A letter from Rosemary Palmer Olding today solved her mysterious disappearance from the home of Professor Hamilton C. MacDougall of Wellesley College. The girl said she had grown homesick for her London home and was going back to England.

Dr. MacDougall, professor emeritus of music at Wellesley College, reported the girl's disappearance to police yesterday evening. He said she had vanished some time between 3 and 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She had been a house guest.

Miss Olding, seventeen, is a daughter of Herbert Olding, London, England, banker.

FOUR ENTERED NOW IN MAYORALTY CONTEST

served on the City Council for eight consecutive years, from 1917 to 1924, entered the contest. Mr. Andrews had considerable civic experience during his tenure of office, having been chairman of the finance committee and serving on all other committees. His platform, to be announced later, would be based on "honesty, efficiency and economy," he said.

Mr. Andrews, who has been ill in hospital for the last three months, consented to stand at the solicitation of a large number of taxpayers, he said, realizing the serious condition of the finances of the city owing to depressed conditions. He intends to open committee rooms immediately, and if elected will devote his whole time to the affairs of the city.

WILLIAMS EXPECTED

The entry of Alderman Williams into the fight is practically assured. He is well known in sporting circles and, although without previous experience in public life, is a close student of civic affairs. He operates two places of business in the city.

Dr. J. D. Hunter has a policy of safe and sane administration, and Walter Dandridge, a resident for twenty-five years, said he was seeking election as an independent candidate, who would enter the council, if elected, with an open view.

TWENTY STARTERS

The fight for City Council seats will be one of the hottest on record, it is expected. With fifteen candidates already in the field, at least twenty are anticipated by December 3, nomination day.

Frederick Smith, furniture and antique merchant, is the latest entry. He is well known in sporting circles and, although without previous experience in public life, is a close student of civic affairs. He operates two places of business in the city.

Dr. J. D. Hunter has a policy of safe and sane administration, and Walter Dandridge, a resident for twenty-five years, said he was seeking election as an independent candidate, who would enter the council, if elected, with an open view.

SCHOOL BOARD

The school board contest still has plenty of room for entries, with six candidates seeking four seats.

Of the quartette in the field for the one vacant police board seat, three have served on former commissions. Mr. Staneland, announcing his stand, said he proposed to give careful study to traffic conditions and lessen the number of accidents, and would not "invite conditions which might demoralize the department." Commissioner McGavin, it was learned this morning, will seek re-election.

HENRY V. Hodson, assistant editor of The Round Table, well-known quarterly review dealing with problems of the empire, and carrying a considerable circulation in Canada, is at the Empress Hotel to-day from London, England.

When seen this morning, Mr. Hodson said he was making an educational tour through Canada with a view to establishing contacts and gaining first-hand information on general conditions.

The temper of the country had shown an improvement, as far as he could gather during his transatlantic trip.

This was due, he said, to the rise in the price of wheat and the election in Great Britain.

Mr. Hodson plans to leave to-morrow on his return east.

PATTULLO HITS BACK AT TOLMIE

Premier Has Brought Government Into Contempt, Says Liberal Leader

Charges made by Premier Tolmie following T. D. Pattullo's speech at the annual meeting of the Victoria Liberal Association last week that the Liberal party leader was trying to injure the credit of British Columbia, were to-day answered by Mr. Pattullo.

Referring to the Premier's comments on Mr. Pattullo's discussing of British Columbia finances, the Liberal leader said:

"The Premier says that at all times I put my own selfish interests before those of the country, and that my endeavor is to try to injure the credit of British Columbia for my own ends. I have never accused the doctor of trying to injure the credit of British Columbia, but I have stated, and I now reiterate that the doctor's government, through ignorance, administrative inability, and through pandering to malevolent influences, has greatly injured the financial position of British Columbia, and has brought his government into contempt. Every one knows this, except possibly the doctor and some of his colleagues."

Marginal Farm Lands In U.S. Put On Discard List

By KEN CLARK Canadian Press Staff Writer

Washington, Nov. 16.—The beginning of a development bearing on the fortunes of the Canadian agriculture and the economic life of the Dominion may come out of a land utilization conference called by Secretary Arthur M. Hyde to meet in Chicago next Thursday. The conference will attempt to formulate a policy not to expand agricultural acreage in the United States but to cut it down.

For years the reclamation service of the department of the interior has been irrigating land and making the desert parts of the country blossom as a rose. At the present time there are under reclamation in the United States approximately 800,000,000 acres of land. Of this, probably 100,000,000 acres are what is called marginal land, and the economic life of the Dominion may come out of a land utilization conference called by Secretary Arthur M. Hyde to meet in Chicago next Thursday. The conference will attempt to formulate a policy not to expand agricultural acreage in the United States but to cut it down.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Canada and the United States began formal negotiations preliminary to drafting a treaty for the development of the St. Lawrence waterway here on Saturday.

Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister of the Interior, and Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Stimson, decided to reconvene immediately the joint engineering board so an agreement might be reached as to whether to build one or two dams in the international section of the river, a stretch of forty-eight miles from Prescott to Cornwall, Ont.

An official statement, given to the public, announced that this fact, and the negotiations had discussed various features and division of costs in the international rapids and work necessary in national sections.

DECLARES MORE HONESTY NEEDED IN PUBLIC LIFE

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—"Dishonesty in public life is a challenge to the Christian church to stand up for the precepts of Jesus or right thinking, right speaking and right doing in public and private life," declared Rev. Andrew Roddan, preaching Sunday evening in the First United Church here.

Mr. Roddan's topic was "Dishonesty in Public Life," and he based his sermon on the Ten Commandments, particularly on "Thou Shalt Not Steal." The Ten Commandments, he said, were not out of date; in fact they were ever more needed than to-day, in public life especially.

Democracy was not, as some people averred, to be blamed for bringing corruption into public affairs, the preacher asserted. In a brief historical sketch, in which he drew pictures of conditions in China, Japan, Imperial Russia, Great Britain and the United States, he showed public dishonesty was equally to be found under autocracies, aristocracies and democracies.

There seemed to be a double standard of conduct, one for public and one for business life, Mr. Roddan went on. The first cause of this state of affairs was the apathy and indifference of the people. There was a need to educate the public to the danger to train people for citizenship instead of electing men who knew little of public affairs. Another cause of the dishonest standards of public life, he continued, was the practice of putting politics before principle.

In conclusion, the preacher urged every man to examine his standard of conduct, to take care he had only one standard, and that the right one. All men were exposed to temptation, and public dishonesty ranged all the way from stealing rides on street cars to misappropriating civic and government funds, as in the case of the Beauchamp scandal.

GARRISON OF VANCOUVER AT CHURCH SERVICE

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—The trouble with the present generation is that it seems to think that if it can only form a committee to do what is necessary, all will be well, forgetting that what is needed is the consecration of human lives to the tasks in hand.

This was the message of Capt. the Very Rev. R. J. Renison, Bishop-elect of the Anglican Diocese of Athabasca, preaching yesterday afternoon to 1,000 officers and men at the Vancouver Garrison Armistice memorial service in Christ Church Cathedral here.

Some people to-day, Dean Renison said, were questioning the call of those leaders of our generation who had laid down their lives. We could not escape tradition, the preacher declared. All the centuries influenced us, and we, too, might influence those who had gone before us.

The Apostle Paul said: "God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us might not be made perfect," and this, the preacher said, was what was meant.

THEY CAN LIVE

Dean Renison took his text from the thirty-seventh chapter of Ezekiel, in which the prophet was asked: "Son of man, can these bones live?" and to which he made answer: "Breathe, O breath of God, upon these bones." The preacher, extending the question, made the query: "Can these men live?" Can those souls, who gave up all they had for their Empire—can they live? They could, he declared, but only in the consecrated lives of the individuals who were left. Some thought the trouble with the League of Nations was that it was born without a soul, and it behooved every individual to put his soul into the fight for peace until the nations put up the sword and ceased to fight.

Units of the garrison marched to the cathedral from the starting point at Burrard and Hastings Streets.

TOOK SALUTE

Following the service, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, C.M.G., D.S.O., officer commanding Military District No. 11, took the salute as the garrison, in review order, marched past the saluting base at the eastern entrance to the Court House on Georgia Street. Following the march past, the units dispersed to their headquarters.

$100,000 HOME BURNED

Carmel, Cal., Nov. 16.—Fire, believed to have been caused from an oil furnace, early yesterday, destroyed the $100,000 home of the late Charles Sutro here. The house contained many priceless works of art. Bucket brigades of neighbors were formed, but were unable to cope with the flames.

Church Asks People To Pray For World Peace

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 16.—On Wednesday, December 2, the Church of England, in its pulpits across the Dominion, will have its clergy issue an appeal to all people to join in prayer for the maintenance of world peace and for divine blessing on all efforts to maintain it.

A memorandum from the committee of bishops, signed by Rt. Rev. J. C. Farthing, Bishop of Montreal; Rt. Rev. J. C. Roper, Bishop of Ottawa; and Rt. Rev. C. A. Seager, Bishop of Ontario, and approved by the Primate, Most Rev. C. L. Worrell, will be put before congregations at the services on December 2.

Headed "An Appeal to All People for Prayer," it declares in part: "The present condition of the world cannot but fill the minds of thoughtful people with sorrow and alarm. In recent years great efforts have been made to secure the peace of the world. . . . Yet there are to-day clouds that are dark indeed on the international horizon."

"Our greatest need is the spread of a passionate aspiration for peace among all people, and a change of heart among all nations. The church should take the lead. The Christian conscience meets to be awakened to the moral issues involved."

SCHOOL CLASSES ARE CLOSED IN ST. THOMAS, ONT.

Canadian Press
St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 16.—Strict quarantine of all homes here where cases of sore throat have developed has been ordered in an effort to cope with the outbreak of septic sore throat which has taken four lives in this city.

Following an emergency meeting of the board of health and the board of education, it was announced eight schools in two of the city's public schools had been closed for fumigation.

Patricia Ann Carter, nine-year-old daughter of Clair Carter, was the latest victim of the malady. She died early Saturday, the second member of that family to die from the ailment. A third is seriously ill.

Dozen Hurt in Clash In New York City

New York, Nov. 16.—A group of Communists yesterday stampeded an audience of 1,000 anti-Fascists gathered in a downtown hall to protest the coming of Signor Dino Grandi, Italian Foreign Minister, to the United States on an official visit.

Before the disturbers were evicted, a dozen persons were injured in ten minutes of fighting with chairs and sticks.

Police reserves helped quell the disturbance. The anti-Fascists had obtained legal permission for the demonstration.

The trouble started just after a telegram of protest to President Hoover. A Communist asked permission to speak while a collection was being taken. He was hissed down, but about forty of his companions sprang to their feet and chairs began to fly. The injuries consisted chiefly of scalp cuts and bruises.

GUNMEN ATTACK CHINESE POLICE IN TIENTSIN

Canadian Press
Tientsin, Nov. 16.—Firing from the "fortress village" west of the Japanese concession broke out yesterday evening and 1,000 Chinese gunmen attacked Chinese police.

The attack followed an apology by the Chinese governor to Japanese military authorities for alleged hostile manifestations.

The governor signed a statement prepared by the Japanese in which he apologized for the presence of three police armed with rifles in the restricted zone around the Japanese concession, promised to remove barricades erected before the recent rioting and agreed not to publish statements injurious to the reputation of the Japanese.

The Japanese insisted they would not remove their barricades while Chinese police were permitted to enter the restricted zone with revolvers.

In the gunmen's attack on them the police were ordered not to fire, the government meanwhile conferring with Japanese authorities.

Prospects for amicable settlement of the Tientsin trouble were seen to-day as a result of the Chinese attitude.

BIG BEAR SHOT

Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 16.—A 600-pound black bear, said to be one of the biggest ever seen in this district, was shot by Vesper Leiber of Quinnes, a few miles from his home while hunting with a party, including H. Divon and George Kemp of Port Arthur. Four men were required to hang the bear in a tree till arrangements could be made to have the carcass skinned. The big fellow was known to hunters in the Quinnes district for several years, and although its tracks had been seen frequently, the bear had seldom molested cattle and had always eluded the attempts of hunters to track it to its lair.

STORES ROBBED IN VANCOUVER

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 16.—Burglars entered the Economy Meat Market on East Hastings Street here Sunday afternoon and escaped with $30 in silver, stolen from the store till. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in the rear door and drawing the bolt.

Police also answered a call to the Eastern Fruit Market, East Hastings Street, yesterday evening. Burglars had taken a small cash box containing $28 in bills and silver, and a number of personal papers. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in the rear door.

TO-DAY IN PARIS

ALTHOUGH AT THIS WRITING THE world does not know what progress toward a peaceful settlement of the Manchurian problem the Council of the League of Nations has made, it is significant that as soon as the meeting opened in Paris this afternoon, Sir John Simon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the National Government, on behalf of Great Britain, said he would lend his fullest co-operation to "uphold the moral authority of the League."

When the League Council met recently it voted thirteen to one for a resolution requesting Japan to withdraw her troops by November 16 from all areas considered illegally occupied. Japan alone voted against it and took the view that the Council's resolution was not binding on her because it was not carried unanimously. China, on the other hand, gave what she and other members of the Council considered were adequate guarantees as they affected the protection of Japanese life and property, maintaining, however, that her integrity in Manchuria had been seriously challenged, and that she could not be expected to negotiate a settlement while an invasion of her territory was maintained.

The job of the League Council is to avert a more serious clash between Chinese and Japanese troops. It already has been announced that the League's secretary was considering, in the event of Japan remaining firm in her stand, the possibility of asking League members to withdraw their diplomatic representatives from the Island Kingdom, while an economic boycott also was hinted at. It is to be hoped, however, that some formula will be discovered that will make extreme measures unnecessary. In any case, two points are clear at this stage. The League must maintain its moral authority. Japan can not afford to incur diplomatic and economic ostracism.

THE CANADIAN DOLLAR

IF THERE IS ANY TENDENCY AMONG Canadians to feel a little despondent because their dollar is temporarily at a discount in the United States, they can take some consolation from the comments of a writer in The Sault Star. He says it may be well to recall that their elders remember the time when American money was only accepted at fifty cents on the dollar in Canada. In his home town as a boy he never knew of an American quarter being accepted for more than twenty cents.

An important point for Canadians to bear in mind during the present monetary situation, however, is that their dollar will still buy one dollar's worth of Canadian goods. For years they have been urged in "buy-at-home" campaigns to give the Canadian article the preference where all things are equal. But these campaigns have not been as successful as they should have been because the incentive has had only the indirect appeal which lay in the fact that more demand for Canadian goods would mean better business for Canada. Not a great many, however, will feel like sending fifty cents out of the country for a forty-cent article.

A CHAMPION OF PEACE

ITALY'S FOREIGN MINISTER, SIGNOR Dino Grandi, who is a visitor to the United States, is the statesman who proposed to the League of Nations that the world declare one year's holiday for armament construction. The plan went into effect at the beginning of the month and is regarded as a "gentleman's agreement"—a moral triumph for the cause of peace and a gesture intended to produce the right atmosphere for next February's disarmament conference. The Italian statesman's visit to Washington is for the purpose of giving him an opportunity of discussing with President Hoover such matters as world economic co-operation, maintenance of the gold standard, peace treaty revision, war debts and reparations, and, of course, disarmament.

It is notable that although Grandi is an out-and-out champion of disarmament and peace, he was a soldier at nineteen—he is only thirty-five—a militant Fascist from the time the movement got under way, and is described as "one of the extraordinary successes of European politics since the war." He has been Italy's chief negotiator abroad since 1922; and it is recorded that he has "frequently opposed Mussolini, and the Duce has seemed to like it." His first assignment in that year was to Geneva as a delegate to the International Labor Conference—at the age of twenty-six. Then he was told:

His youthful vigor made an impression on other delegates, and Mussolini appointed him Italian delegate to the fifth International Conference of Labor. He was then officially Under-Secretary of the Interior. Mussolini himself held most of the important Cabinet portfolios. In 1925, the Premier appointed him Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

He was a member of the Italian delegation sent to Washington, in 1925, to negotiate the funding of the Italian debt. He made a name for himself by his successful efforts on this mission, and since then Mussolini has never hesitated to send him on the most trying errands.

Next, he went to London and secured a satisfactory settlement of the Italian debt to England. Then to Locarno, where he upheld the Italian point of view and aided materially in settlement of the questions which culminated in signing of the Locarno pact. Since 1925 he has been the chief Italian delegate at the League of Nations.

It was not until 1929 that Mussolini called him to be Foreign Minister, a post which the Premier regarded as next most important after his own.

Coupled with the fact that Premier Mussolini himself now has become one of Europe's most energetic leaders in the cause of peace, the attendance of Signor Grandi at next February's disarmament conference assures a strong stand by Italy. And as the Duce expands his influence in this direction, so will he gain more of the world's approval, a world, incidentally, which has watched him and his policies with a critical eye. The Italy of to-day is a different Italy from that of ten years ago. She can be a great force in world affairs and as she uses her influence for good, the names of her Prime Minister and her Foreign Minister will be closely associated with her increased prestige.

LORD ASHFIELD

IT IS INTERESTING TO RECALL THAT Lord Ashfield, the man who is coming to Canada to be a member of a commission to advise the government with regard to the Canadian National Railways, became chief superintendent of Detroit's electric railways before he was twenty years of age. From that city he went to New Jersey to manage the Public Service electric railways; and later to England where he became managing director of the huge combine which operates the tubes, omnibuses and tramways—known as the T.O.T. He was born in Derbyshire, came to the United States as a lad, fought for the United States as a seaman aboard the cruiser Yosemite in the Spanish-American War, and resumed his original citizenship by becoming naturalized in Britain in 1914.

Considerable surprise is manifest in Canadian railway circles that the government should have selected Lord Ashfield to head the commission, because although he has the reputation of being a brilliant executive, his experience has been with electrical and bus transportation rather than with steam. It had been expected that if Mr. Bennett went to Britain for an expert, he would invite an executive from one of the four main railway groups. The fact that Lord Ashfield got his early training in the transportation business on this continent no doubt was considered an advantage which most British officials lack. "However that may be," The Toronto Star observes, "the appointment of this urban and interurban street railway and omnibus expert gives rise to interesting conjectures. He is regarded as peculiarly fitted to advise the government on the problem of truck and bus competition, for this is his own specialty. In railway circles it is thought that he will suggest steam railway ownership of, and participation in, these services to a greater extent than at present. That is the trend in England."

The question then arises as to what Lord Ashfield will say about merging the two great railways of Canada. He has been identified with one of the greatest mergers in the world, so he will hardly be prejudiced against mergers. But the records at Ottawa contain a statement from the present Prime Minister of Canada in which he said there would be "competition ever," but "amalgamation never."

EFFECTS OF NEW DISCOVERIES

THE WAY IN WHICH SCIENCE CAN upset long-established industries by means of new inventions is strikingly illustrated in two little news dispatches which appeared in the papers recently. One told how the Du Ponts have invented a means of making synthetic rubber; the other revealed that German engineers believe they have found a way of making synthetic gasoline cheaply.

Whether either of these processes can successfully compete with the natural product is not yet clear. But a moment's thought shows how far-reaching the effects of such inventions could easily be. Suppose, just for the sake of argument, that cheap artificial rubber and gasoline should suddenly become available; would there not be a perplexing time ahead for the vast rubber plantations of Brazil and Malaya—and for the owners of the world's leading oil fields?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CANADA'S GOLD

The Ottawa Journal

Speaking of gold—and it is talked about now as much as nickel used to be—it is some satisfaction to note that Canada's gold production is showing a steady increase, and that the time is fast approaching when Canada will pass the United States as a gold producing country. Last year, according to the latest figures, our total gold output was in excess of $43,000,000, and this, according to the best estimates, will exceed $50,000,000. In this connection, it is interesting to note that 60 per cent of all the world's gold production comes from mines within the British Empire. It is a fact which somewhat impeaches the notion that Britain will never return to the gold standard, and that we ourselves, eventually, will use some other metal as a measure of the value of our currency.

BACK TO THE LAND

The Winnipeg Tribune

The families who are going back to the land are already residents of Manitoba. The cost of maintaining them in idleness in the cities will ultimately have to be paid by Manitoba. They can, in certain locations, subsist more comfortably and more economically in the country than in the city. Their energy, which has no outlet in the city, can be applied in the country with at least some prospect of benefit to themselves and to the community. The question of the cash value of their efforts and of their produce has no meaning under present circumstances. No very great importance necessarily attaches to conjecture as to what proportion of these families will permanently re-establish themselves on the land. Possibly ten per cent of them will in the course of a few years become moderately successful farmers. If so, they will represent a net gain, compared to the net loss involved in the direct relief arrangement now in vogue.

A HOLLYWOOD ACCENT?

The Christian Science Monitor

If, in the future, there is to be a standardized pronunciation of the English language there is a possibility that part of the credit must be given to Hollywood. Since the advent of the talking films the defects as well as the admirable features of British and American speech have been increasingly apparent. Instances in which the pronunciations of the two countries differed radically have necessitated the making of both an American and an English version of the same film. This is the case in a recent picture containing frequent use of the word "lieutenant" which is pronounced "li-tenant" in the English version and "lootenant" in the American version.

Now, questions Herbert Marshall, a London actor, why should there not be a new form of English embodying the best points of both countries' speech and acceptable to audiences in Australia as well? He suggests that the language be called "Anglo-American" and concludes that it is probable, on the whole, that "Anglo-American" will be more "Anglo" than "American" though, he adds, Englishmen will, of course, have to adopt many of the American words and forms of expression, as they are now doing, and Americans in turn will have to adopt more of the English forms of courtesy.

Loose Ends

A great problem is simplified—my friends' wonderment is explained—and Pokokoto is rescued in the nick of time.

By H. B. W.

PART of the official technique in meeting the financial difficulties of this time is to make them appear as difficult and complicated as possible. They are surrounded with a heavy haze of governmental mystery. We are told that they are baffling the best minds across the Bay. Well, one feels sorry for the great minds, one hesitates to break the illusion, but there is nothing complicated or mysterious about it at all. We are spending more money than we are taking in, and I can imagine nothing simpler, nothing easier to understand, than that. If it happened to you or me, we would understand it quickly. As a matter of fact, it has happened to a large part of our population already, and the people so affected have had no difficulty understanding it. Also, they have met the problem by cutting down their expenditures to their incomes. And great as is the agony of governments in doing the same, the hardship of individuals has been much greater because it is much more inconvenient to eat less and wear less and burn less in the stove than it is to pass disagreeable orders-in-council.

JUST the same, when the mystery has been debunked and dispelled, and the province has been forced to live within its means, as we are told it is going to be shortly, I anticipate a fierce outcry from many sections of the public which have been flustered by the economic. Thus, what is needed nowadays is not governments anxious to remain in office, but governments which are willing to be wiped out doing the right thing, governments under the juggernaut of public stupidity and reap their reward ten years later, when their memory is called to mind. Why governments are not willing to throw themselves under the juggernaut I cannot imagine. It is a quick and kindly end and there is not a cabinet minister in office to-day who is not protesting to his friends, day in and day out, that he wonders why he ever left private life. In ordinary times governments return to the peace of private life for doing the wrong thing. Here is a chance to return to the peace of private life by doing the right thing. It is an opportunity which, I predict, will be widely neglected.

IT IS A continued source of wonderment to my friends who think about the problems of the times that, despite the depression, despite the reduced purchasing power of the public, the movie theatres continue packed as usual. The trouble with my friends is that they think, but not enough. Perhaps that is why they are my friends. If they thought more deeply they would see the inevitable logic of crowded movies and empty pocket books. Machinery produced our late, lamented prosperity, it changed the outward appearance of our civilization and it also changed us. A man cannot live in this machine age without feeling the effect of the machine. Like everything else in the world, he becomes mechanized. He comes to depend on himself but on the machine. He comes to depend on the machine, indeed, to counteract the effects of the machine. He craves excitement manufactured by the machine, and the machine which manufactures it is the machine of the movie theatre.

THE machine age had not created some such outlet, if the machine had not set up some other machine to take the place of the machine. We should all have gone mad long ago. You cannot live with a machine all the time and stay sane; and as most people have not the sense to come out and live in the country with me, they have to depend on the machine for their rest from machinery. Well, the machine, having made our lives so comfortable, has stopped temporarily for repairs. Our prosperity stands still. But the people created by machinery are still the same. They cannot go back to sanity, to my barbarous and simple life, every time there is a depression. They go on as usual, and with the natural horror of the machine age aggravated by the still more machine-made relief from the machine. If it were not for the movies and such things, the sanity of the world could not endure these times at all. Never did the poisons of the machine age require such strong antidotes as they do now.

THE little girl next door has a variety of relations. So many gentlemen are called her uncles, indeed, that we sometimes wonder whether her father and mother, with so many brothers and sisters, were the offspring of a polygamist. However, there is one uncle in particular; in particular because he is always spoiling the little girl next door with gifts. The other day, returning from the east, he stopped off at Banff and bought her a curious little doll with a blanket of red and blue and green, with dark skin and staring eyes. Immediately the doll was christened Pokokoto (pronounced Pokokoto by the little girl), and what happened to Pokokoto, I feel, must be told, like the story of Hiawatha, in heroic verse. Therefore, I have composed this epic:

From the hills came Pokokoto,
 From the hills came Pokokoto,
 In a huge and well-filled suitcase,
 A doll of red and blue and green,
 With a blanket of red and blue and green,
 With a little maiden next door.
 To the little girl who loved her,
 To the little girl who loved her,
 Wrapped her in a blanket of red and blue and green,
 Took her to her bed at night-time,
 Sat her on the tray at breakfast,
 Took her forth to meet the neighbors.

"She's an Indian," said the neighbors. She should dwell out in the open. Roads and houses make her moister. Fearing which, the maiden left her, that on a rainy morning. Left her there in rain and sunshine, dawning out across the valley. To the distant hills star of light with a weary, sad expression. As the point peered off her visage, as her brown face became moist, fair than a child's white face, and her left eye disappeared. And with blank, the one-eyed color. Dripped upon the dewy green grass.

Then at last, poor Pokokoto, blown before the ruthless north wind, fell backward, kicking up a cloud of dust. The Pukubys were gathered. Gathering round the body and wheelbarrow. Carried into the meadows. Plunged into the meadows. To make the soil there rich and fertile. To the distant hills star of light. Bought in vain for Pokokoto. Called her name aloud with weeping. Shrieking shrilly to the north wind. "Where's my Indian? Where's my Indian? Search among the oak leaves ponder. Search for her down in the meadow." Though she searched among the oak leaves. Though she ploughed through every pile of leaves. Leaping headlong in each pile there. Strewing oak leaves on the north wind. Fading into the north wind. To save his leaves for fertilizer. Fading into the north wind. Went to bed with heart quite broken. Went to bed with heart quite broken. And with blank, the one-eyed color. To-day did Pukubys start ploughing. Ploughing in the cracking oak leaves. To make the meadows rich and fertile. To the distant hills star of light. Just in time he saved his horses. Just before his horse was ploughed in. Lying there upon the meadow. Underneath the oak leaves. Face all pale, his paint departed. Her eyes closed, his mouth open. Gazing, gazing, at the grey sky. "She will get pneumonia surely." Quoted by the sharp-edged plough. Saved her from the sharp-edged plough. Left his horse in the furrow. Left his horse in the furrow. Left his horse in the furrow. When came sounds of loud rejoicing. Shouts of joy.

New is Pokokoto's meaning. Warm is beside the furnace. Dripping soft upon the concrete. And her face, though pale and battered. Eyes, noseless, without color. And with blank, the one-eyed color. On the little maiden's pillow. In the wigwag of the white man.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
 NOVEMBER 16, 1906

From The Times Files

H.M.S. Egeria arrived in Esquimalt harbor yesterday afternoon after an absence of seven months, which time was spent in the north of Queen Charlotte Islands. The purpose of obtaining complete surveys of Dixon Entrance and Port Simpson approaches, but owing to the prevalence of the weather the chief part of the work was found impossible to fully accomplish this object.

Seventy-five or more of the East Indians who arrived on the steamer Tartar on Wednesday left for Vancouver last night, and will endeavor to seek work in the coal mines of the province.

After an exceedingly smart run up the straits, the schooner Umbrine, Captain Blakstad, arrived from the coast yesterday afternoon. This morning the vessel discharged her seal skins and before evening these had been packed away in cases ready to be forwarded to London.

The tourist season is now at an end, and those who catered to the class of travelers are very well satisfied with the results. Although in 1905 the Lewis and Clark exposition caused many to come to Victoria, the transient travelers during the season just closed reached a much larger number than last year. Doubtless in order to the Development and Tourist Association.

Negotiations are in progress looking to the C.P.R. Company putting on a steamship service between Victoria and Seattle the whole year around.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: light or moderate winds, chiefly southerly, becoming unsettled with rain at night.

GROUPS MUTE IN ESQUIMALT ON BEER MOVE

The attitude taken by Attorney-General Pooley in the request for beer parlors in Esquimalt has been discussed by the majority of the residents, but expressions of opinion from public bodies were not forthcoming this morning.

Personal criticism was voiced by Councillor George W. Brooker. He expressed his disappointment over the decision, declaring emphatically that should a vote be taken, he would vote against beer parlors. He referred to the fact that his home was directly opposite one of the parlors and said several unpleasant incidents had occurred in front of his house.

Frank Cooke, president of the Board of Trade, was averse to giving a statement on behalf of his organization, but said that personally he was in favor of beer parlors on the grounds that their presence prevented an invasion of "bootleggers." The beer question had not been considered by the board, he said.

AIMLESS EXPENDITURE

To the Editor:—Many people are fully in accord with the letter from "Small House Owner" a few days ago in your paper.

Sympathy is coming to some who find themselves to-day on the unemployed list, but others are no doubt there through lack of thrift and the real desire to work and make good. The main point in the letter which appealed to me was the question of the futile dribbling away of thousands of dollars of the ratepayers' money, evidently being spent by the city authorities with no plan and no objective.

We have heard about beautification plans till we are sick, sore and tired, but still the Macdonald playing field is not ready for the ultimate good will this present sort of work do for Victoria?

"SMALL TAXPAYER"

AMUSING

To the Editor:—Your editorial on disarmament is very amusing. Personally, I did not think we had so many intelligent people in Victoria. What King George appealed for is what all Britishers want, but for two years, while she has been cutting in the elements, tell me, Sir, one nation that has followed her? Not one. If Canada wants an Irish Free State, that is her business, but Great Britain has trained experts that know what her enemies and their intentions. Make no mistake about that.

CAPTAIN WISE.

October Mansions, City of Victoria, November 12, 1931.

Editor's Note:—Nevertheless, the King and his government are trying to promote disarmament.

THOSE FIVE ORDERS

To the Editor:—In the newspaper report of a meeting of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association on November 13 at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, Alderman R. T. Williams is represented as having made the statement that "Aldermen Smith and Pedersen tried their best to send the city's iron pipe orders to Vancouver."

At the meeting of the City Council held on October 19 last I not only endeavored to have, but was successful in having, the largest portion of this order sent to Vancouver for the simple reason that the Victoria tender for this item was $33,000 higher than the Vancouver tender.

At the same meeting of the City Council, Alderman Williams voted against a Victoria firm getting a contract for the supplying of hydrants, even though the Victoria tender of $1,664 was only $200 more than the Vancouver tender. This fact can be verified by reference to the minutes of the City Council at the City Hall.

ARMISTICE COMMITTEE'S THANKS

To the Editor:—The Armistice Period Committee desires me, on their behalf, to thank you, and through you, all those of their fellow citizens who have actively participated in the work or by their purchases, contributed largely to the successful disposal of our poppies and wreaths.

Not all realize the amount of work which Poppy Day and the Armistice memorial services entail. Careful planning preceded the actual operations and the splendid result was due to the untiring efforts of an energetic band of citizens who were unremitting in their contribution of time and wise counsel. We owe a deep debt of gratitude to the many who served us so faithfully, not forgetting the young people who did duty in the streets on Poppy Day.

Our grateful thanks are also extended to everyone who contributed to the success of the Christ Church Cathedral and Cenotaph memorial services. These impressive services drew their inspiration from the magnitude of the gatherings which marked both ceremonies. On behalf of the Armistice Period Committee, I wish to express sincere thanks to all who participated, but as our numbers were so numerous the danger of missing many is great, therefore, I am naming none so that no one may be inadvertently overlooked.

But it would be unseemly to make no mention of the wonderful co-operation of citizens as a whole which produced a silence, during the two minutes succeeding the hour of 11 o'clock, that was profound enough to be heard a mile off. The hope that those who mourn for their gallant dead derived comfort from the splendid tribute which Victoria paid at the thirteenth anniversary of the return of peace.

In order to avoid possible misunderstanding, I should say that our joint Armistice Period-Red Cross fund still remains open. The needs of those who served in the war and suffered thereby are great and so far the fund has reached less than one-third of the amount subscribed last year. Contributions, which will be gratefully received, should be sent to the honorary treasurer, Mr. C. Hensley, Canadian Red Cross Room, 318 Belmont House, Victoria, B.C.

FERCY LAKE, LT.-GEN.

Chairman, Armistice Period Committee, Victoria, B.C., November 13, 1931.

THE PICK AND SHovel SIDE

To the Editor:—The most vital question of the present time is, no doubt, unemployment. There is a solution, but it would not meet with the approval of those who have it in their power. However, there is a considerable misunderstanding regarding the distribution of the large sums of money for relief work, may I give a short line-up of the war and suffered out of it, taking for example last week and next week, in Victoria.

Monday, rain, wet and mud. Worked all day.

Tuesday, wet and mud. Worked all day.

Wednesday, laid off without pay to celebrate Armistice. No pay. Orders of department in control.

Thursday, rain and mud. Worked till soaked and sick. Crew laid off at noon, 6.15.

Friday, raining. Reported on job to prevent being fired. All crew laid off. No wages.

Saturday, around City Hall in line-ups trying to get pay.

Received total of $7.47, which has to do for two weeks or more, men being laid off till called again. The above is at the rate of $3 per day. Men must report in rain to hold the job, even if sent home, and no pay obtained, or on occasion, like Armistice Day, they are laid off without pay. Men are seen soaking wet, covered in mud, complaining of colds, rheumatism, effects of wounds, etc. Insufficient food and clothing, while vast sums of money for so-called relief seems to be going into machinery, equipment, etc., purchased from certain parties, and for clerks and officials for this wonderful system of relief.

Three hundred and fifty-seven married men tendered a petition for a minimum pay of $60 per month. This and more is being paid elsewhere. Conditions will soon put many on the sick-list and they reasonably ask that they be continued to those falling sick, and that if reporting on the weather, they should be paid for that day at the small wage paid for relief work. The understanding with the Dominion government was, I believe, that the current or standard rate of wages should be paid for relief work. Current rate in Victoria City was and had been for years $4.25, $4.50 and up.

The members of many veterans November 11 went back to France and the promises made to those who returned. Will they be veterans of coming war in defence of a government that hands them $7.47, a bad cold, attack of rheumatism and a blisters to keep a family going for weeks.

Why not play the game and hand out a square deal, you fellows in control? This also applies to foremen paid $5 per day ready to push them to send men working who had got under cover for a minutes from pouring rain, back to the ditch.

DR. J. D. HUNTER IS CANDIDATE

Has Lived in City Fifty Years;
Running Independently

Dr. J. D. Hunter this morning definitely announced his candidature for the City Council, stating he would run independently of any slate or group.

"I offer myself as an alderman as a citizen of fifty years' residence, anxious to assist the city navigate through these days of financial and economic storm," Dr. Hunter said.

"I am strictly independent. On the two most important questions of today, namely, finance and unemployment, my policy can be stated in two brief sentences:

"As a taxpayer of many years' standing, my efforts will be directed towards keeping the tax burden as low as possible, compatible with sound financing.

"On unemployment relief my policy is a sane and economical expenditure of public money on unemployment relief works that will be of some permanent advantage to the city."

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. New two sizes 60¢—$1.25. (adv.)

POPULAR GIRL
PRETTY BRIDE

Miss Winifred Ferriman Married Saturday to Alexander Geddes of Dockyard Staff

Tall standard baskets filled with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used in the decoration of the First United Church on Saturday evening for the wedding at 8.30 o'clock of Winifred, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ferriman, 1058 Tolmie Avenue, and Mr. Alexander Geddes, son of the late Mr. W. Geddes and of Mrs. Geddes of Lossmouth, Scotland, Rev. Bruce Gray performed the ceremony in the presence of a large congregation. The wedding march was played by Mr. Jack Smith and during the signing of the register Miss Ina Easton sang "Love's Coronation."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, made a most attractive picture in her gown of powder blue silk lace and georgette, made with a tight-fitting bodice of lace and a long circular skirt of georgette, and worn with a short coat of the combined materials with flowing elbow sleeves. Her hat of matching blue mohair was trimmed with blue velvet and pink flowers, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Miss Kathleen Knapp, the bridesmaid, wore a becoming frock of shell pink silk lace with a close-fitting bodice with a cape collar and a long peplum skirt. Her hat of blue mohair was trimmed with pink velvet and flowers, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and small pink chrysanthemums. Little Kathleen, Marling was a dainty flower girl in golden yellow tulle. She wore a band of gold ribbon in her hair with clusters of pink roses over each ear, and carried a basket of tiny pink flowers.

Mr. William Sharp supported the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Phil McGuire and Mr. Edward Warburton. Many guests attended the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the bridal party standing beneath an arch of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, from which was suspended a white floral wedding bell. They were assisted by Mrs. Ferriman in a gown of navy blue cut velvet with hat to match, and by Mrs. M. Ramsay, an old family friend, who wore a smart black robe of flat crepe with a collar of Maltese lace and hat in suite. They both wore corsages of roses.

The supper table, arranged with folds of mauve tulle, yellow candles and vases of mauve chrysanthemums, was centred with the beautifully decorated three-tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Geddes left at midnight for a motor trip on the mainland, and on their return will make their home on Empress Avenue. The bride traveled in a woolen frock embroidered in yellow, a brown hat and a handsome muskrat coat.

The lovely wedding gifts included a silver tea service from the minister and staff of the Department of Education of the Provincial Government, of which the bride had been a member, and a chest of silver from the civilians' branch of H.M.C. dockyard, Esquimalt, where the bridegroom is a member of the office staff, and a silver cake basket, presented to the bride by the ladies of Macaulay Point Golf Club.

Music Certificates
Are Presented

Hollywood Hall was the scene of an interesting recital Saturday evening, when piano, vocal and toy symphony numbers were rendered by pupils of the Victoria Music Festival. The chief feature of the evening was the presentation by W. H. Muncy, president of the Victoria Music Festival, of two silver medals and fifty-two certificates gained during the year at the Victoria Musical Festival, B.C. Festival and Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations.

Master Billy Inglis and Kenneth Cave were the recipients of the medals, and those (most of whom took part in the programme) receiving certificates were: Billy Inglis, Howard Barnett, Kenneth Cave, Anne Crockett, Margaret Walker, Ottilia Miller, Olga Crossman, Jack Inglis, Marion Skellern, Nancy Kyle, Hilda Kyle, Frances O'Neill, Tom Anstey, Constance Barlow, Helen Mitchell, Barbara Wilson, Pauline Griffin, Alice Skellern, Dorothy Plumb, Margaret Worth, Zelma Wille, Winifred Moorhouse, Pamela Griffin, Peggy Lowe, Thelma McAllister, Marguerite Elliott, Dorothy Fuller, Winifred Applegate, Paul Smith, Dick Higgins. Others taking part in the programme were Peggy O'Neill, Freda Green, Mary Loudon and Fred Mitchell.

Columbia W.A.—The monthly meeting of the Diocesan Board of Columbia W.A. will be held on Friday in the Parish Hall of St. Matthias, Poul Bay to be preceded by a service of Holy Communion in the church at 10.30 o'clock. At the afternoon session at 2 o'clock, Mrs. E. P. Laycock will outline a model study class on India. Members are advised to take the No. 6 Poul Bay car to Woleley Avenue and walk south one block to the corner of Lillian Road.

Pretty Wedding
Is Held At St.
Mary's Church

With the boys' choir in attendance, the wedding of Winifred Mary, only daughter of Mr. A. E. Collis, 2477 Cadboro Bay Road, and of the late Mrs. Collis, to Mr. Nelson William Crip, of Esquimalt, second son of Mrs. G. H. Crip, Aldershot, England, was solemnized at St. Mary's Church at 9.30 o'clock. Rev. Canon Nunns performed the ceremony, during which the hymn, "O Perfect Love" was sung. The decorations were carried out with pink and white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a charming picture in her gown of white satin, which reached the floor. Her veil of French silk net was arranged in soft folds and confined to her head with a cluster of orange blossoms over each ear and fell in a short train. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Muriel Smith of Seattle, attended her cousin as bridesmaid in a pretty picture frock of pink taffeta. Tiny frills formed the bertha collar and edged the hem of the long skirt, a soft wash of pink and blue taffeta, tied with long ends circling the natural waistline. She wore a pink taffeta hat and held a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums. Mr. H. J. Fithall, of Portmouth, England, supported the groom, and the ushers were Mr. T. Davis and Mr. J. Colville, all associates of the groom at the Royal Canadian Naval Barracks.

A reception was held later at the home of Mr. Collis, attended by about sixty guests, who were received by the bride and groom in the dining-room, standing beneath an archway of pink and white chrysanthemums and ferns, from which was suspended a large white bell. The supper table was arranged with silver vases of pink carnations and was centred with the three-tier cake.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Crip will make their home at 2554 Cadboro Bay Road. The bride left in a smart brown frock and hat, with which she wore a black cloth coat with brown fur collar and cuffs. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. W. S. D. Smith of Seattle, Misses Eileen and Norma Smith of Los Angeles, and Miss Elinor Nelson of Vancouver.

PERSONAL

Mr. Harry Warburton, assistant accountant at the Empress Hotel, left today on his holidays. He plans to put in a week's fishing at Brentwood and will also visit Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Cowan and little daughter of Onward Ranch, Cariboo, are staying at the Oak Bay Hotel during the winter months. Mr. Cowan is a big rancher of the Cariboo. He and Mrs. Cowan are annual visitors to the city.

About 180 basketball enthusiasts and friends of the James-Bay Athletic Association attended the opening dance of the winter season at the Gorge clubhouse on Saturday evening. Arranged by the social committee of the association, with the assistance of members of the girls' basketball team, the function was a distinct success. Further dances will be held each Saturday evening following the basketball games.

The young ladies department of the B.C. Telephone Company traffic department were hostesses at a very successful dance on Friday evening in the Foresters' Hall with Len Acree's orchestra in attendance. A number of novelty dances were the feature of the evening. The committee comprised the Misses Best, Bolden, Chambliss, Crawford, Davidson and Houghton. Messrs. Adams and Harness of the plant department ably assisted. The proceeds from the dance will be donated to the Christmas Cheer Fund.

Your Baby
and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHER IGNORES BABY'S STEADY
GAIN IN WEIGHT

I get amusing letters from mothers. One mother says mournfully, "My baby weighed only twenty-five pounds at one year, and I wonder why the 'only'." Twenty-five pounds is four pounds above the average year-old weight. Another mother asks, "Why doesn't my baby gain?" and then goes on most surprisingly to say that baby weighed six pounds and some over at birth and now weighs over fourteen pounds. "Gain?" I say to myself, "Why she is gaining!"

Of course it all depends on what a mother is expecting. If she is working toward an ideal which it is impossible to realize, then she is sure to be disappointed. But if she is comparing her baby with herself or the average, rather than with some neighbor's or relative's baby, she can see that baby is doing well.

A BLUE-RIBBON BABY

Mrs. M.B.'s baby has out-distanced most babies in physical development. Evidently the mother is determined that baby shall hold on to her blue ribbon. She writes, "My baby is six months old. She has eight teeth, the first two at three and one-half months; the last six at five and one-half months. She has been standing on her feet since she was four months old, sits alone, pulls herself up in bed and is very active. She is normal in every way, but she weighs only sixteen pounds and twelve ounces at birth, and fourteen pounds and five ounces now."

Her diet consists of the following: 6 a.m., six-ounce bottle. 8 a.m., Orange juice and cod liver oil. 10 a.m., cereal with bottle. 2 p.m., bottle. 6 p.m., vegetables and bottle. 10 p.m., bottle and to bed. Why doesn't she gain?

NOT UNDERNOURISHED

Of course the answer here is that she has gained. She weighed 108 ounces at birth and now weighs 224 ounces, a gain of 116 ounces or about five ounces a week. Probably her failure to gain even more dramatically can be traced to that bottle formula. Six ounces is not enough milk for a six-month-old child. The proper amount is eight ounces, five times daily. The formula right now would be about twenty-eight ounces of boiled milk, one and one-half ounces of sugar and boiled water to make forty ounces in all.

It is preferable to feed the vegetables along with the 2 p.m. bottle. There should be a long nap right after the 10 a.m. feeding, and a two-hour airing outdoors after the 2 p.m. feeding. Bedtime should follow immediately after the 6 p.m. feeding, even if there is a bottle given to baby in bed at 10 p.m.

These are all small things, but when totaled they combine to offer baby a more nourishing diet, and a programme of good habits that will inspire not only a better gain, but also help to continue her really astounding physical development. I'm sure if you will make these changes, you'll find her meeting your expectations in the matter of gains though she is far from being an undernourished child now.

SOCIAL SERVICE
LEAGUE TO HOLD
TAG SATURDAYAppeal For Funds to Carry on Family Welfare
WorkCase of Little Jimmie Typical of Assistance Given By League

To insure the carrying on of its family welfare work the Social Service League will hold a tag day on Saturday, when it is hoped the citizens of Victoria will respond with their customary generosity to this appeal on behalf of less fortunate ones. The league aims to help families by assisting them to readjust their difficulties, rather than by giving temporary relief, and to this end it seeks the cause underlying the problems facing the family. In this way many cases have been encouraged and helped along the road to rehabilitation with their self-respect unimpaired.

THE CASE OF JIMMIE

A typical instance of the work carried on by the league is shown by the story of Jimmie. Jimmie was a bright youngster who wandered into the Social Service office one day with a badly swollen face and it was soon learned that he needed dental care and was forthwith taken to have this attention. The boy was then taken home and it was found that his mother was trying to pull herself together after a series of operations. They had lived in the Old Land and thought that in a new country they might make a new start. The father of the family was not assuming his responsibilities as he should and assistance was needed.

Contacts were made with the older members of the family who were married and away from home, but they had their own families to take care of and could do nothing for the mother. She was however, encouraged in every way and assistance was obtained. Then when summer came she was given a two weeks' holiday at Sunshine Camp where new friends were made and where she obtained a new lease of life. Her teeth had been extracted and new dentures had been obtained. These were made possible by a Cooke who had lately come into a small estate. As this woman could not very well go out to work she was finally used to give foster home care to a child who had been deserted by her parents and had no one in the world to care for and love her.

How to Lose Fat
a Pound a Day
on a Full StomachDo Just These Two Simple Things

Fat Melts Away

Science has made important discoveries in fat reduction. The average fat person can now rip off fat a pound a day—four to seven pounds every week—on a full stomach, with never a hungry moment. Thus it is foolish now to stay fat.

This is what you do: Take a teaspoonful ordinary Jad salts in a glass of water a half hour before breakfast every morning. This reduces moisture-weight instantly. Also cleanses the system of the waste matter and excess toxins that most fat people have, and banishes puffiness and bloating.

Then do this about eating: FILL YOUR STOMACH—eat your fill—of lean meats, vegetables like spinach, cauliflower, cabbage, tomatoes, etc., and lots of salads. Eat a lot. Eat all you can hold. Don't go hungry a minute! Cut down on butter, sweets and desserts, bread. Eat any fruit for dessert.

That's all you do. Fat seems to melt away. The coarse lines of overweight give way to the refined ones of slenderness. You lose as much as a pound a day. You feel better than for years. For in this treatment you achieve two important results. The Jad Salts clear your system of toxins. The diet takes off fat with food that turns into energy instead of weight.

If you're tired of getting embarrassed by fat, try this way. You'll be glad that you did. You can get Jad Salts at any drug store.

*Note particularly—the salts are urged purely as a poison-banishing agent—not as a reducing. The change in food does the work. (Adv.)

The old man was growing apoplectic in his throat, moving the silver about agitatedly. When he had calmed himself, he said:

"Well, say no more about Bruce. I have the two greatest griefs to bear that can come to a man—my wife and my son are dead." He was almost weeping.

Fear for him, in his present highly emotional state, tied the girls together. It seemed foolish to try to convince him by the usual platitudes, that this violent recrimination was only natural, that a little familiarity between father and son would smooth away the sharp edges of their differences, bring them back together again.

She forgot the subject of Bruce for the time being.

"Very well," she said quietly. "If you're sure you want to do that. You're always kind to me, but this seems—too much, somehow. I've never done anything to deserve so much. I've no right to it, really. If you change your mind—"

"It's all settled. And it ain't so much. Not half of what people think. He flashed warily. "And time the taxes are paid and all, you won't be so rich you'll bend your back carrying it." This was pure awn, Mary knew, but she let him say it. If it pleased him to belittle his wealth, it was a pleasure he could afford.

"I ask only one thing," she said soberly. "That nothing be said about it just yet. No one must know."

He was obviously disappointed but he agreed, grudgingly. It would have been infinitely better that long-festering wound to his pride and his affections which his son's way of life had dealt him it let the world know that Bruce was to be punished. In his own peculiar self-sufficiency, Bruce had always evaded him. This was the only way the father could hurt him.

Mary knew that Mr. Jupiter was heartick over the open break with Bruce from the listless tone with which he spoke of his yacht, for the Gypsy was the dearest toy he owned.

"I've got Hendricks," he said, "and he won't take on anybody I wouldn't. Good man. Good navigator, good pilot. And a damn good mechanic. Don't often find that in a seagoing man. I'll get away the first of the week."

Go away from New York, leave Dirk—? Mary's heart cried out that she couldn't, no matter how unfairly he had behaved toward her.

PUPILS PRESENT
SCHUBERT MUSIC

Big Audience at St. Margaret's School Saturday; Certificates Presented

A large audience of parents and friends of the students of St. Margaret's School were delightfully entertained on Saturday at a Schubert Evening given with much success in the gymnasium of the school. The programme opened with an orchestral number, "Moment Musical," No. 1, in which the young violinists under the able direction of Miss Irene Bick showed remarkable poise and spirit after only four months' training.

"The Making of a Masterpiece" was the title of a little drama founded on the life of Schubert, the scene laid in 1851 in Vienna. The leading characters were taken as follows: Schubert, M. Wain; Joseph Spaul, B. Sheppard; Anton Holzappel, B. Mahary; Fritz Bohn, M. Craig, and were all excellently portrayed. Other students' parts were taken by E. Bradlock, E. Smithson, F. Gibson and E. Swayne.

Following the play, during which the students sang Schubert's "Cradle Song," and P. A. Gibbs gave a fine rendering of "The Earl King," R.A.M. and R.C.M. certificates were presented to the higher, lower and elementary divisions in music by Mrs. Forrest. Leader as follows: Higher division, Dorothy Kennedy, Nancy Patterson; lower division, Patricia Wilcox, E. Bradlock, Pauline Hales; elementary, Margaret Wilcox, Muriel McCallum, Ruth Hammerley; grammar of music, division 3, Patricia Wilcox, Helen Thayer; Nancy Patterson and M. Wilcox; division 2, Ruth Hammerley, division 1, Mrs. Leader, who was introduced by Mrs. K. Spurgin, principal, as one of the earliest friends of St. Margaret's School, congratulated the successful students and commented with enthusiasm upon the work of the orchestra.

Miss Doris L. Taylor gave a resume of the life of Schubert, which was received with applause. "Who is Sylvia" was sung by pupils and audience alike, with Miss Merry accompanying, and was followed by the senior choir in "The Lord Is My Shepherd," with Miss Taylor as accompanist. Impromptu in A flat, a piano solo by N. Patterson, was followed by "Spring," Return, sung as a quartette by N. Patterson, A. Stimson, D. Parkhill and G. Wilson.

"Moment Musical" No. 6, was given with skill by D. Kennedy, and senior choir was again heard with pleasure in "Laughter and Tears," conducted by Miss D. E. Merry. Impromptu in B flat, by B. Cox was the most outstanding pianoforte selection of the evening, showing delicate in phrasing, fine technique and poetic interpretation. "Hark, Hark, the Lark," was sung by J. Ryan, with piano accompaniment by Miss R. Hansen Bay of St. Margaret's staff, gave a "cello solo, Schubert's 'Serenade,' and Miss Irene Bick, accompanied by Miss Eileen Dumbarton, played Schubert's "Are Maria" with rare grace and finish. P. A. Gibbs, baritone, sang delightfully "The Secret" and "The Organ Grinder." Organ and vocal numbers were greatly appreciated by the students and the audience, enriching an unusually interesting programme of the masterpieces of Schubert.

SISTER
KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

No holiday menu is complete without at least a narrow wedge of mince pie, and for meals during the festive holiday season mince pie makes an acceptable dessert. Mince meat is also used to make delicious puddings.

Since mince meat improves if allowed to stand a few weeks after making and before using in pies, the foresighted housewife makes her mince meat in November to give it time to ripen. The best mince meat is made with a combination of the best of both worlds and the result is an enticing mixture without any predominating flavor.

"Proper" mince meat is made with boiled cider and there are several brands of commercially prepared boiled cider on the market. However, sweet spiced vinegar from sweet pickles or a mixture of grape juice, orange juice and lemon juice can be substituted with good results. Sweet cider can be boiled with the other ingredients if it is at hand.

The modern mince meat is quite different from the concoctions of our grandmothers. Fifty years ago, mince meat used to be made of mutton, beef and pork, with apples and raisins. There was thick with meat. The old recipes or "receipts" call for a few raisins and spices to give flavor, but the main ingredients were meat, apples and raisins. To-day some cooks make mince meat, using nuts, candied fruits, currants, raisins, preserves and fruit juices carefully seasoned with sugar and spices.

The following rule is a combination of the modern and old-fashioned mixture.

MINCE MEAT

Two pounds lean beef, ½ pound beef suet, 4 pounds apples, 2 pounds seeded raisins, 1 pound cleaned currants, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup lemon peel, 3 pounds light brown sugar, 2 quarts sweet cider or the equivalent in fruit juices, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup ground nutmeg, 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ground allspice, 1 cup preserved cherries or strawberries.

Any part of the beef can be used thin or lean. Some people prefer the tongue to any other part. It must be boiled until very tender and carefully trimmed before chopping. Cook meat in boiling water until tender, adding 1½ teaspoons salt when half done. Add water as necessary and remove scum as it rises.

When meat is tender boil rapidly to reduce stock to one cup. Let cool in stock. When cool, remove from stock and carefully trim away bits of fat, bone or gristle. Put meat through food chopper and strain stock. Mince suet. Pare, core and chop apples and chop raisins. Put all ingredients except preserves into preserving kettle. Bring to the boiling point and cook over a low fire for about two hours, stirring to prevent sticking. Add preserves if liked.

Uncle Wiggily Helps
Lady Mouse

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"Unkie Wig! Unkie Wig!" called Baby Bunty in the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow one morning. "Where are you, Unkie Wig?"

"I'm up in my room twinkling my pink nose," answered Mr. Longears. "What is it, Bunty?"

"Please, Unkie Wig," said the little orphan rabbit, using all the baby talk she was allowed, "may I have a head of cabbage?"

"Why, Bunty!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "You aren't going to eat a head of cabbage so early in the morning, before you go to school, are you, my jolly little orphan?"

"Oh, no, Unkie Wig," Bunty answered. "I'm going to eat my regular breakfast of orange juice and oatmeal and marmalade, and bread and butter. But I want a head of cabbage just the same."

Agreed, "and I'll help all I can. You children may help the Lady Mouse, and I'll help her, by letting you take some of my cabbages, carrots, potatoes, spinach or anything I have in my cellar to school with you. But it isn't Thanksgiving yet."

"True again," said Uncle Wiggily. "So while you are eating breakfast I'll go down cellar and get the vegetables ready and you can take them to school with you to help the Lady Mouse help the poor."

Uncle Wiggily went down cellar to get some carrots, potatoes, cabbage and other good things to eat. And while he was down there in the dark, in the old Bear, looking for a warm place to stay for the winter, when the Bear saw the rabbit he growled:

"Well, I guess I'll take some nibbles before I curl up for my long winter sleep in my cellar, Unkie Wiggily!"

"Well, I guess you will not!" cried the rabbit. With that he took the sharp end of a carrot and he tickled the Bear so much in his ribs that the Bear laughed and turned a somersault and went head over heels flipping up the steps and out of the cellar.

Then Uncle Wiggily looked the door and brought up bushels and bushels of vegetables to help the Lady Mouse help the poor animals. The bunny rabbit children took the Thanksgiving food to school with them and they were very happy.

And if the rubber doll doesn't take a sugar cookie to make a wheel for her roller skates, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jackie's surprise.

"And I want some carrots!" cried Jinjie.

"I want a big head of lettuce!" shouted Jangle.

"Dear me! What's the matter with the children this morning?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he finished twinkling his pink nose. "I had better hurry downstairs and see why they want all those extra things for breakfast."

By the time Baby Bunty, Jinjie, Jangle and all the others were in the dining-room.

"Could I take some spinach and potatoes?" asked Buster.

"Dear me!" murmured Uncle Wiggily. "This is the first time I ever heard any of you ask for spinach. It's hard enough to get you to eat it without having you beg for it."

"Oh, if you please, daddycums," spoke Buster. "I don't want the spinach to eat for myself."

"Then why do you want it?" his father asked.

"I want it to take to the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School," Buster replied.

"That's why I want a head of cabbage, for the Lady Mouse," said Bunty.

"And I want to take some carrots to the Lady Mouse," said Jinjie.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "I never knew the Lady Mouse could eat so much."

"Oh, she isn't going to eat it!" chuckled Jinjie.

"Then why do you take her all those things to eat?" asked Mr. Longears.

"It's for the poor for Thanksgiving," said Baby Bunty. "Listen to me, Unkie Wig. So when the rabbit gentleman listened Baby Bunty explained that each year at Thanksgiving time, all the school children animals brought something to the Lady Mouse Teacher to give to the poor animals who, otherwise, would have nothing to eat."

"You see," said Bunty, "you are a sort of a rich rabbit, Unkie Wig, and Lady Mouse says the rich should help the poor."

"That's quite true," Uncle Wiggily

agreed, "and I'll help all I can. You children may help the Lady Mouse, and I'll help her, by letting you take some of my cabbages, carrots, potatoes, spinach or anything I have in my cellar to school with you. But it isn't Thanksgiving yet."

"True again," said Uncle Wiggily. "So while you are eating breakfast I'll go down cellar and get the vegetables ready and you can take them to school with you to help the Lady Mouse help the poor."

Uncle Wiggily went down cellar to get some carrots, potatoes, cabbage and other good things to eat. And while he was down there in the dark, in the old Bear, looking for a warm place to stay for the winter, when the Bear saw the rabbit he growled:

"Well, I guess I'll take some nibbles before I curl up for my long winter sleep in my cellar, Unkie Wiggily!"

A Lifetime's
Peace of Mind

FEAR for your children's future... fear of passing on and leaving wife and loved ones to face want and privation. Isn't it worth 51c. a day to banish such fears forever from your mind?

"Only 51c. a day," you say? Yes... and if you are under 35 years of age it will be even less. For 51c. a day is the rate a man age 35 would pay on a $10,000 Great-West Minimum Cost Policy—the cheapest permanent life insurance you can buy.

Horoscope

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1931

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day in planetary direction. It is a time for precaution against mistakes of many sorts. It is the early bird to-day who leads, and merchants should benefit by using much energy in the morning.

While it is a risky time to launch new ventures, the surest success for many is in commercial affairs.

There may be disappointment to dealers in oil, drug, children and in other articles sold in liquid form.

The evening hours should be good in a restricted sense for conferences and for meetings in which future policies are discussed.

Again the seeds warn of danger through propaganda of a quality tending toward unrest and discontent in the United States. It is well to avoid speculation in real estate under this way, although some owing should be a general aspiration.

The Moon in Pisces to-day is seen as encouraging psychic investigation and interest in occult matters.

Socialists now are subject to planetary conditions making for radical action. Astrologers declare, and their power will be evident in many parts of Europe.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of unusual circumstances that will enlarge experience in numerous ways.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly highstrung and subject to changeable moods. Many persons ruled by this sign may appear inconsistent in their lives.

Achille Fould, noted French statesman and financier, was born on this day, 1808. MacDonald, 1768, French general, also celebrated it as a birthday.

COMMUNISTS FAIL

Brunswick, Germany, Nov. 16.—A plebiscite demanded by Communists failed yesterday to dissolve the Brunswick Diet. Only about 12 per cent of the electorate voted in favor of dissolution, whereas a vote of at least 50 per cent was required. The Communists state they will not try to oust the Saxon Diet by the same tactic.

San Sebastian, Spain, Nov. 16.—Marquid de Albalade was arrested when he attempted to cross the French frontier in an automobile yesterday.

His arrest was ordered by authorities in Madrid in connection with the investigation into alleged monarchist activities.

MONARCHISTS ARE ARRESTED IN RAIDS IN SPAIN

Madrid, Nov. 16.—Raids and arrests continue as police seek evidence of an alleged monarchist plot.

Nineteen arrests had been made up to yesterday evening. Police declined to make the charges public, but it was understood the suspects were accused of organizing a nation-wide group for disseminating religious and monarchist propaganda.

Big Stores Anxious Over Interest Dates On Big New Loan

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 16.—Seventy-six per cent of the funded debt of the Dominion of Canada is payable in Canada, 11 per cent in New York and 13 per cent in London. With Great Britain off the gold basis, the Dominion's external interest payments are lighter than they were, despite the premium on New York transactions. This information was contained in a statement issued by the finance department in connection with the forthcoming Dominion domestic loan.

PALE, WHITE LIPS —AND UNDERWEIGHT

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) proved to be just what Mrs.
Mitschbrook needed.

"My aunt told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills three years ago," writes Mrs. Alvin Mitschbrook, R.R. No. 3, Watford P.O., Ontario. "I was always troubled with weakness. I was very pale with no color in my lips and I was underweight."

"After taking the first box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was encouraged to go further. When I had taken them steadily for a month, I had gained my color back. I am well now and have gained in weight from 105 to 122. I frequently recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my friends, and have received so much benefit from them."

The scientific explanation of the astonishing results brought about by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) is now well known. The iron and other elements in the pills increase the amount of haemoglobin or oxygen-carrying agent in the blood. Supplied with more oxygen through the blood, the tissues of the body become revitalized. The result to you is better health—a feeling of well-being.

If you are weak and run-down, or if you suffer from rheumatism, sciatica, nervousness or any ailment caused by poor blood, go to a drugstore today and get a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. 50 cents a package. Be sure to say "Dr. Williams" so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

COAST LUMBER MEN PLAN PACT

Associated Press
Tacoma, Nov. 16.—A committee to be appointed by J. D. Tennent, president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, and Oak W. B. Greeley, secretary-manager, which will have a dual objective in working out a plan for a minimum production basis and in recommending a minimum wage for the lumber industry of the Pacific Northwest was authorized here at a conference of lumbermen held under the auspices of the association.

The committee has not yet been named. The minimum production basis will be sought as a means of spreading employment among the 81,000 men normally employed in the industry and in the interest of holding production even. The action was in accordance with the recommendation of Col. Greeley, who gave a summary of the condition of the industry, in which he discussed in turn the problems of mill stocks, current production, employment and wages.

MILL STOCKS TOO HIGH

West Coast mill stocks were too high with relation to the demand, Col. Greeley told the conference, but with reduced operations in sight for the remainder of the year and an excess of orders over production for the last two weeks showing the needed favorable balance, he saw possibilities of reducing the stocks by February or March, 1932, to the level recommended to the level recommended by the special committee of President Hoover's unemployment committee.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE HIGH

An unemployment of 49 per cent of the entire industry was reported by Col. Greeley as the result of an extensive study of present conditions made by the association. Those mills operating were running at 72 per cent or normal, as far as labor was concerned, although operating at only 50 per cent of mill capacity because of shortened hours per week. The industry was making a commendable effort to keep men employed, said Mr. Greeley.

The Douglas fir district was in better condition than the other lumber districts of the country in the matter of mill stocks, it was reported. Douglas fir mills had total stocks of 1.7 billions feet, or 31 per cent of twelve months' use of lumber at the 1931 rate, which would last about four months. Southern pine mills had 50 per cent stock on the same basis, and western pine mills 81 per cent. It was recommended by the committee that Douglas fir mills reduce their stocks by 40 per cent, or two and a half months' supply, during the coming year.

PRODUCTION AT LOWEST EBB

Production of the 335 mills of the district was reported at its lowest ebb since the July shutdowns, or at 28 per cent of capacity. This was expected to go down to 20 per cent during December.

GRIEF CERTAIN IF CITY BONDS TAMPERED WITH

Mayor Ansonb Says Capital and Labor Linked in City's Finances

Warning that Victoria would travel the highway to disaster the day it meddled with the terms of repayment of its bond issues, coupled with advice to ignore schemes to expand the city boundaries at this time, featured an address by Mayor Ansonb before the Gyro Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

The address took the form of rapid replies to a series of questions presented to the Mayor just prior to the luncheon.

Mayor Ansonb said that although the city annually expended $3,000,000, much was recognized to be uncontrollable. Appropriations, classed as under council control, were so only to a very limited extent, all being necessary for maintenance. The city's business was comparable with that of a $20,000,000 industrial concern and compared with private business the city paid low salaries to its key men, he said.

EMPLOYEES' VOTES
Regarding the influence of civic employees in the municipal elections, his Worship commented that it would only be natural for men and their relatives to vote according to their own interests. The aldermanic candidate who promised to raise wages could naturally rely upon support from civic servants, while every advocate of lower wages would be assured of substantial opposition.

This year the city had expended $289,000 on relief work and would be doing well if it received work worth 50 per cent of the cost.

Mayor Ansonb said expenses were controllable to the extent the people demanded added services. New street lights, on school courses, cost money, he pointed out. The city's practice of providing free telephones to about twenty key employees was a recognized perk, which had grown up through many years.

EXPANSION UNWISE
Touching upon extending the city limits, his Worship said Oak Bay would not agree at this time, as it would not be good business. To take in Esquimalt at this time would be poor policy for the city and the fringe of Saanich, which could be taken in, would be a source of grief.

The publicity grant should be denied, if it could be afforded. Eighty per cent of the money spent by the bureau went to city workers for printing and services.

ONLY ADDED OFFICIAL
The city manager system would be merely adding another official, Mayor Ansonb personally favored a city manager, provided that official was clothed with a long term of autocratic authority.

The city was getting a fair price from nearby municipalities for water supplied. The rate had been struck by an impartial committee.

Fire protection given Oak Bay for $11,000 yearly was good business, as the city would have to maintain the Duchess Street hall to protect the hospital and that part of the city.

SECURITIES INVOLVABLE
Touching on the city's tax rate Mayor Ansonb said proposals to extend bond issues were impractical. Any attempt to charge annual charges would be a breach of faith with bond holders.

"Any attempt to do so will result in the city getting into a money bind, and the result will come directly back on the workers. You can move money by bank draft, but a man and his family are tied in one place," he warned.

"You cannot keep the tax rate down, the public works department ordinarily includes 150 men, but today you have exactly 1,000 more men at work."

Touching on Alderman Williams' suggestion to borrow $500,000 to keep the city for forty miles, Mayor Ansonb said, "If that is good business then it would be better to borrow $3,000,000 and reduce the levy to twenty mills. The trouble with that idea is that it is nonsense."

Regarding the prospective deficit of the Jubilee Hospital, the mayor said Oak Bay had overpaid for benefits received, but both Esquimalt and Saanich had set up deficits. Victoria and Oak Bay favored setting up a hospital district the plan being opposed by the other two municipalities.

He had advised the hospital directors to close the hospital to non-payers five weeks before the Legislature sitting commenced, as a means of getting action. Closure of the hospital would be followed by cessation of the government contribution of seventy cents per patient per day.

He caustically commented upon the attitude of Saanich towards expenditures incurred on its behalf.

MOODY BIBLE INSTITUTE HEAD TELLS OF WORK

Dr. James M. Gray Visits Victoria to Aid Bible Conference

"Business and professional men of North America have shown in the post-war period a great increase in their desire to understand the Bible. They form a large percentage of the present enrolment of 10,000 students in the correspondence courses of the Moody Bible Institute," said Dr. James M. Gray, president of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, who is visiting Victoria to-day.

Dr. Gray is paying his first visit to Victoria, to assist the inter-denominational Bible conference being held by the local churches under the auspices of the Bible Institute. There will be no direct financial benefit to the institute from the local meetings, Dr. Gray said.

Dr. Gray was associated in field work with the late D. L. Moody for several years. The institute was founded in 1886, thirteen years before death, called the great evangelist. Over 1,200 of its students are now in heathen lands under various missionary boards. Dr. Gray became associated with the institute as dean of students in 1904 and was shortly afterwards appointed president.

GREAT DEVELOPMENT
When D. L. Moody died there were 350 students enrolled in the institute, but under the direction of Dr. Gray this number has increased to-day there are about 1,000 day students, mostly residential, and an equal number of night students, mostly from Chicago district. The enrolment is equally divided between men and women.

The regular course is two years with an additional year for a special course. No fees are charged, but residential students pay board and mess. Twenty-seven downtown dormitory buildings surround a small profit to the institute. Including lecture buildings and assembly halls, the institute has thirty-five buildings in the downtown loop area of Chicago.

Dr. Gray said that the institute had a number of between forty and fifty instructors, with nearly forty teachers on permanent salary. There was no endowment and the institute was financed entirely by gifts and bequests, the daily cost averaging $1,500 throughout the year. "In years of prosperity people are more generous and we expand our work. We believe in the use of money to be used. Most of the gifts are of small sums. At present we are seeking where we can economize. Our October deficit was $100,000 but we do not worry about it. We have been through just such times before," Dr. Gray said.

NURSING SISTER DIED SUNDAY
Late Miss Effie Alexander, R.R.C., Victim of Illness Contracted on Overseas Service

The death of Miss Effie Alexander, R.N., R.R.C., daughter of Mrs. Alexander, 1169 Oscar Street, and the late Robert Lowry Alexander, well known in Saskatchewan and Alberta, occurred at the Jubilee Hospital at noon on Sunday, causing widespread regret among her colleagues in the nursing profession and a large circle of friends in Victoria and elsewhere.

Trained in the Jubilee Hospital, Miss Alexander enlisted as a nursing sister June 16, 1915, in No. 3 Hospital Unit, and left Canada in August of the same year, serving in England, Salonica and France and earning the distinction of the Royal Red Cross. In 1917 she was engaged in the result of illness contracted during war service in Salonica.

Returning to Canada in 1920, she was on duty at the Military Hospital at Esquimalt, and later joined the nursing staff in Shaughnessy Hospital. In 1925 Miss Alexander returned to her home in Victoria and continued to be actively engaged in her profession until a few weeks preceding her death, when she was suffering from a long illness.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Mr. Alexander, a large number of sympathizing friends. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

OBITUARY
The death occurred in Vancouver on October 30 of Henry Bramley, former Victoria resident, in his seventy-fourth year. After leaving Victoria he was for eleven years in Courtenay, leaving that city for Vancouver two years ago. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Hugh Black of Victoria.

The death occurred at her home, Dundas Street, on Saturday evening of Mrs. Janet E. Rolefson, wife of Edward Rolefson, aged seventy-six years. She was born in England and in 1890 came to Victoria with her first husband, Samuel H. Rolefson, moving to Glen Lake about 1909, where Mr. Rolefson died in 1913. She was married to Mr. Rolefson in 1916 and shortly after that returned to the city, where they resided ever since. For a number of years Mrs. Rolefson was well known as a practical nurse. She is survived by her husband, at the family residence, a brother-in-law, A. Brakes, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Lucas of John Street. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The death occurred on Saturday night of Mrs. Louise Monk of 2081 Byron Street, who passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital. Born in Victoria sixty-two years ago, Mrs. Monk was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eastman. She returned here about seven years ago, after some years' residence in Chicago, and had been employed at the Turner-Betton factory ever since, having had a similar position with the firm about twenty years ago. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. G. Prescott, in Victoria, and Mrs. E. Purvis at Memphis, Tennessee, and one brother, S. W. Eastman, in Victoria. The funeral will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Canon A. E. del. Nunn officiating.

Detroit Falcons Pull Surprise Victory Over New York Rangers

THE Noble Nets Goal SPORIS In Final Period MIRROR To Beat New York

Prairie Men Making Final Bid to Keep Pro Hockey Alive in Western Canada

Mother of Pepper Martin Still Dazed by Heights to Which Son Has Risen

Plenty of Activity for British Columbia Ruggers if Plans Carry Through

WHILE Eastern Canada throbs to the pulse beats of big time hockey, the quiet of winter professional sport, prairie men interested in the ice game are making another determined attempt to keep the moneyed sport alive in Western Canada.

Headed by the redoubtable "Duke" Keats, hero or villain, as you wish, of many stirring Pacific Coast League battles, the men who look after puck-chasers in Edmonton, Calgary and Saskatoon, three of the mainstays in the old P.C.H.L., are attempting to arouse sufficient interest to have a loop operate in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

While many who packed arenas throughout the West will lament the passing of the professional game they loved to watch, in certain amateur circles it is looked upon as a happy omen for the sport.

In the Kootenays, teams are looking for an exceptionally high brand of hockey, with none of their players being drawn away to the ranks of the moneyed class. Word from Seattle states that high ranking amateurs are being brought in at a premium, while in Vancouver, according to reports, hockey players are showing up quite regularly.

If Victoria has been able to secure an arena, professional hockey might have been better off on the Coast. There is a strong possibility that the Capital City, with an arena, would have been able to enter a team in a professional league and might even have been able to furnish the squad needed to form a Coast League.

Bunny Austin, England's "fair-haired boy" in many an international tennis duel this week's most widely known benedict in Great Britain. Looks like another "love match" for the racquet ace.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

A recent issue of The Sporting News of St. Louis is authority for this one: "Mrs. Celia Martin, mother of Pepper, has not fully grasped the change in fortune that made her boy a national hero. She has spent so much of her life in that little three-room house on the west side of the railroad tracks at Oklahoma City, that, at sixty-seven, the world beyond the next street seems just a little queer and all the praise showered on her son more or less a fantasy."

"According to press dispatches, when a committee called on her recently to invite her to be guest of honor, it was discovered that the electrical current and gas had been shut off from her home because she was unable to pay the bills."

If arrangements under consideration by the British Columbia Rugby Union are carried through, English code players of the province should have plenty of outside competition.

In addition to the proposed trip to Japan in January the British Columbia Union is considering a home and home series with a California team. Word comes from Halifax that the Gloucester Raiders, champions of Eastern Canada, are considering sending a team to the Coast. There has been a rumor to the effect that St. John's University might come up for a game.

In addition to these, intercity fixtures in the McKee Cup scheduled for next week, the Canadian team for the Japanese trip, should furnish other matches of outstanding interest.

BARACKMAN AND RAY WIN BOUTS

Defeat Hackenschmidt and Hiebert, Respectively, on Local Wrestling Card

Tom Ray of Portland, hailed as the corkscrew artist, secured a victory over Young Hackenschmidt of San Francisco, and Mervin Barackman of Seattle defeated Harold Hiebert of San Francisco, in the double headline wrestling card at the Tillamook gymnasium Saturday. All were middleweights.

In both cases it was experience that told. Ray and Hackenschmidt showed a lot of speed for the first round and Ray used his corkscrew method to break loose from several headlocks. A body slam early in the second round gave Ray the lead. For three rounds the going was even and then Ray engaged on a hammerlock which caused the San Francisco grappler to tap the mat.

Falls in the third and fourth round gave Barackman his victory over Hiebert. There was plenty of action with the young San Francisco wrestler ready and eager to rough it with the experienced Barackman. A reverse slam in the third took a lot out of Hiebert and right at the outset of the fourth Mervin snapped on a wristlock and finished it with a body press.

In the curtain-raiser Reg. Hopkins defeated Frank Thompson.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16.—Willie Hoppe regained the world's 18.1 billiard championship from Welker Cochran, 3,600 to 3,637, in their challenge match which ended here yesterday.

An early lead assumed by Hoppe was cut down considerably in the final blocks of play. In the eleventh 300 point block, played Saturday, Cochran shot 367 to 300 for Hoppe and in the final block it was Cochran 504, Hoppe 300. Cochran took the title from Hoppe last year.

Coast League Football Teams Engage in Stalemate After Hard-fought Match

Sanford Performs Brilliantly in New Westminster Net; Kulai and Kerr Score

Nanaimo, Nov. 16.—Featured by the brilliant work of Sanford in goal, New Westminster Royals managed to draw a 1 to 1 yesterday with Nanaimo in a Pacific Coast League football game before 2,500 fans. Locals had 75 per cent of game and played visitors to standstill in the first half. For every shot the local goalie handled, Sanford had ten and he handled them in mastery fashion. The locals swarmed all over the defence and kept up a bombardment but could not beat Sanford although he was fortunate on several occasions, being well beaten with shots which hit the bar on side nets.

Waugh and Grey sent in many hard drives which were either stopped or just wide. Waugh missed two good chances when well placed, and Kulai was slow at centre missing several good opportunities when in good position to score. The visiting forwards were well held by the local defence. McGregor, Edmunds and Strang being in great form. Neither team scored in the first half.

In the second half the visitors had more of the play testing Blewett several times. Nanaimo scored first on a fine corner kick by Fowler which was headed in by Kulai amid great cheers. Locals slackened pressure and Royals scored when Adam Kerr nipped in and slipped the ball past Blewett. Both teams fought doggedly for the lead and the two goals had narrow escapes. The final whistle found the ball in mid-air. The Royals missed a penalty kick.

The teams follow: Nanaimo—Blewett, Edmunds, English, McGregor, Grey, Knight, R. Grey, Waugh, Kulai, G. Grey, Fowler. Royals—Sanford, Anderson, Fidler, Trotter, Stobart, Stoddart, Kerr, Preston, Hammond, Turner, Todd.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—The world champion Canadians of Montreal and the Toronto Maple Leafs played seventy minutes to a 1 to 1 tie in their National Hockey League game here Saturday evening before a crowd of 10,000 spectators.

The game was a mediocre one. All the scoring was done in the second period, Joliat beating Chabot for the Habitués score ten minutes after the middle session started. Canacher equalized for the Leafs about five minutes later. Both goalkeepers played brilliantly to keep the score down. Erratic shooting and weak passing by both teams gave the defence the edge. Penalties were marked up.

B.C. Amateur Ice Heads In Protest On Residence Rule

Delegates to Annual Meeting of Provincial Body in Firm Stand for Modification of New Regulation; Province Divided Into Three Districts for Play-offs; A. H. Jefford, Vancouver, Is President

Rossland, Nov. 16.—A firm stand for the modification of the residence rule for hockey players, especially in British Columbia, will be taken by the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association when its delegate next meets with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. On Saturday coast and interior delegates to the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association's annual gathering protested loudly at the newly placed rule making January 1 the residence date for the amateur hockey players.

Approval was given to a recommendation that the province be divided into the following districts for playdown purposes, Kootenays, Okanagan and lower Coast. Playoffs in these districts are to be independent of the B.C.A.H.A., which will handle only inter-district and final playoffs. Elimination automatically of teams considered too weak for provincial playoffs was decided on. Intermediate in future will be barred from playoffs in the senior series.

TO PURCHASE MEDALS
The B.C.A.H.A. has a credit balance of $1,004.50. In future medals, gold for senior, and silver for intermediate and junior provincial winners will be given by the association. The constitution was amended to include junior and bantam hockey, and to make a grant of a sliding scale for junior hockey. Annual meetings in future will alternate between Coast and interior.

Officers elected were: A. H. Jefford, Vancouver, president; Stanley V. Smith, Vancouver, secretary; C. E. Crowe, Trail, vice-president; J. W. Kinnaird, Vernon; A. A. Farthing, Revelstoke; Allan Fellows and C. H. Corkum, Vancouver; Lloyd Crowe, Kimberley; C. D. Blackwood, Nelson, executive; S. G. Blaylock, Trail; E. G. Montgomery, Kimberley; Thomas Leigh, Vernon, and Walter Leek, Vancouver, were added as honorary vice-presidents.

Winnipeg, Can., Nov. 16.—Transfer of nine Manitoba hockey players to eastern points was approved by the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association at its annual meeting yesterday, but affidavits filed by the players will be found to be faulty, they will be referred to the Canadian association for action.

Transferred players were Jack McIntosh, Bill Gill, Jimmy Foster, Len Burrage, Monty Muckle and Don McDonald to Montreal, N.B.; Bill MacKenzie and Kitson Massey, to Montreal, and Gordon MacKenzie to Kenora, Ont. McIntosh is a Brandon player, and all others are Winnipeg men.

E. A. Gilroy was named to the presidency for his fifth term, and F. H. Marples retained the secretarial office for the eighteenth term. Financial position of the Manitoba body was reported as the best in its history, and more players were reported registered than at any previous period.

Dean Performs In Sensational Style To Net Five Goals

International Centre of Brilliant Everton Team Star Saturday's Match Against Chelsea; Brings Season Total to Nineteen; Arsenal Performs Feat in Beating West Ham at Highbury; Weather Plays Havoc With Scottish Leaders

London, Nov. 16.—Sweeping team after team before them one of the most riotous spasms of success in the history of the English League, Everton took Chelsea in their stride at Goodison Park on Saturday. When Everton scored seven goals against the Pensioners they brought their total for their last three home matches to twenty-four. They have averaged five goals a game for their last seven matches.

O'Dowd, transferred from Burnley to Chelsea during the week for a fee of approximately $25,000, played central forward for the Pensioners, and had a warm baptism. He was called on to match his skill against "Dixie" Dean, Everton's international, who proved a veritable jack-in-the-box with his head popping up three times in the first fifteen minutes to twist the ball into the net, while he followed up his headers by scoring two more goals in the next five minutes. Dean, with his feet, getting five goals in thirty-three minutes. He brought his total bag for the season up to nineteen, and recovered the position as leading scorer from Waring, Aston Villa, Johnson and Stein completed Chelsea's rout. Mills and Jackson goalied for the visitors. Thirty-five thousands saw the game.

AWAIT THIS MATCH
The football world is now awaiting the clash between Everton and West Bromwich Albion, the runners up in the championship averages. Unfortunately they do not come together in a league match until Easter. On Saturday the cup-holders, who have not surrounded themselves with such a formidable array of goals as Everton, unobtrusively but brilliantly defeated Aston Villa and withstood their challenge for the leadership of the Midlands. Gladden, W. G. Richardson and Raw goalied for West Bromwich, and the Villa did not reply. Towards the end the Villa were run off their feet.

JACK DOES HIS TRICK
All the thunder from the London clubs, 55,000 watched Arsenal, the league champions, plot overtures in the championship race by beating their fellow citizens from West Ham. It was the first time since 1925 they have done this at Arsenal's home. The feat was done this at Arsenal's home. The feat was done this at Arsenal's home. The feat was done this at Arsenal's home.

Leeds United, who are out in front in the Second Division, appear to have booked a return ticket to the First Division last season. On Saturday they trimmed Preston North End by 4 to 1. Leeds launched incessant attacks on the outcast, but their efforts were nullified by the weakest shooting. Fifth Ham had a gift goal due to a misunderstanding. Freely, the Arsenal goalie, dropped the ball and Watson seized on the chance to score.

IN HEAVY RAIN
Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 16.—Soccer matches were carried through under miserable conditions in Scotland on Saturday. Heavy rain fell everywhere, which may explain why the clubs are so keen to play on Sunday. Celtic were beaten at Parkhead by Partick Thistle, an unexpected result, while Motherwell, who were expected to be nullified by the weakest shooting. Fifth Ham had a gift goal due to a misunderstanding. Freely, the Arsenal goalie, dropped the ball and Watson seized on the chance to score.

Owing to an injury received in the game with Motherwell, the weeks ago Joe Kenworthy, Celtic's Canadian goalkeeper, was not able to make his debut at Parkhead as expected. Thistle played a game suited to the conditions, Simpson scoring first for them after nineteen minutes of play, and McGourth added a second just after resumption. A Thomson secured the goal.

SETS WORLD RECORD
Gardone, Riviera, Italy, Nov. 16.—Antonio Beccoli, piloting the speedboat Lya III, set what was claimed to be a new world record for the twenty-five mile class yesterday. He averaged 68.2 miles per hour.

Duluth Is Given Hockey Franchise

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 16.—Duluth was given a franchise in the new organization of the American Hockey League at a meeting here yesterday. The circuit thus became a six-club affair, the other cities being Minneapolis, St. Paul, Hibbing, Eveleth, and Superior. Most games will be played Saturday and Sunday, with several mid-week contests sprinkled through the schedule.

D. Randall Wins Tombstone Event

In the tombstone competition played at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday, Dr. Randall was the winner, while H. Barnes finished second. There were twenty-four competitors.

Major All-stars Defeat Japanese Ball Players 11-0

Tokio, Nov. 16.—The touring United States all-star baseball team defeated a Japanese team, 11 to 0, yesterday before 50,000 fans.

Lefty Grove, of the Philadelphia Athletics, shut out the Japanese with three hits. From O'Dowd, Frank Frisch and Willie Kamm his two-baggers for the Americans.

CANZONERI TO DEFEND HIS TITLES

World Lightweight and Junior Welter Crowns at Stake in Bout With Chocolate

Pair Engage in 15-Round at New York Friday; Heavies Top Other Cards

New York, Nov. 16.—Tony Canzoneri, world lightweight champion, will defend his title against the great Cuban battler, Kid Chocolate, in a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Canzoneri's junior welterweight title also will be at stake, and there is an outside possibility the junior lightweight championship against the great Cuban battler, Kid Chocolate, in a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Chief interest centres on the lightweight title which Canzoneri won little more than a year ago by knocking out Al Singer. Since then he has defended it twice against Jack (Kid) Berg, England, knocking out the Briton in their first title go, and decisively winning the second on points.

Canzoneri, a great money fighter, probably will be a slight favorite on Chocolate, although the odds are no likely to be greater than 11 to 10.

Victoria Wanderers	8	4	1	1	1	1
Victoria College	7	5	1	1	1	1
Victoria Brentwood	6	6	1	1	1	1

By handing the classy Jokers' eleven their second straight defeat at Heywood Avenue Saturday afternoon, Victoria City went out ahead of the field in the race for the Victoria and district football championship. With a team that has been drastically remodeled from last year, the City have been displaying great football so far this season and their 2 to 0 defeat of Jokers Saturday came as a great treat to their followers.

The battle of the tallenders at lower Beacon Hill grounds resulted in Doc Poynt's Victoria Wests registering their first victory of the season over the Jokers' City encounter fought out on a slippery field and with a soggy ball. With both teams tied in the league standing and with a win for Victoria City, the Jokers' City were left in the rear, the game was doggedly fought, though the football was uncertain.

Bob Davidson, centre forward for the City, emerged as the hero of the game. Efficient in inverse proportion to his size, this diminutive pivot man netted a goal in each half and was the only man of the twenty-two to break into the scoring column.

The Jokers opened the fray by going on the offensive and for a while Parker, in the City net, had an anxious time. But Campbell, Roper and Smith played well defensively and the threat was averted.

After about half an hour, the City commenced storming the Jokers' net and Chalmers, the Jokers' custodian, saved two stinging shots.

Finally, Davidson received a high pass from the left wing and headed the ball into the net for the first half. This lead was held till half time.

At the beginning of the second half the Jokers replaced inside right Sage with Woodley. The City's second tally and the last of the afternoon, came when the Jokers dropped a hot shot from outside left. Davidson rushed in to tap the ball into an open net.

The Jokers kept up a steady offensive, but lacked the finish and the breaks around the net, and though Preston went to the forward line and Campbell came back to half, the whistle blew with the City goals unbeaten.

Robb refereed. The teams were: City—Farquhar, Campbell, Glog, Heal, Roper, Smith, Storey, Watson, Davidson, Glancy and Murray. Jokers—Chalmers, Leggett, Margison, Stofor, Preston, Carmichael, Bond, Sage, A. Campbell, Betheridge, Nelson and Woodley.

With Bill Chester, formerly with the Greenhills, back from California and playing with his old team, the Victoria Wests presented a strengthened front line. The team, who beat Thistles and managed to beat them by the odd goal in seven at Beacon Hill.

The Wests opened on the offensive and scored first, when Fouson passed to Peers, who beat Bridges neatly. The Thistles showed some of their old-time form till half time and evened the score when Eddie Viggers tallied.

In the second half Chester was moved up to centre forward and other changes were made, but the Thistles came on and took the lead when Fred Price beat Restall. Then the Wests stepped on the gas. Bordo, Chester and Mulcahy scoring for them in succession and giving them a 4 to 2 lead. The Thistles attempted a late rally and Minnis made the game more interesting when, with five minutes to go, he scored and brought the score to 4 to 3.

Dowds refereed. The teams were: Wests—Restall, A. Wright, Tupman, Bordo, Chester, Fouson, Youson, S. Wright, Peers, Stewart and Mulcahy. Thistles—Bridges, Nurse, Harper, Williams, Joe Crowe, Jim Crowe, Viggers, Price, Burns, Gibbons and Minnis.

Jack Hamilton Is Named A.A.U. Head

Regina, Nov. 16.—Jack W. Hamilton, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, was elected president of the Saskatchewan branch of the A.A.U. for the eighth successive year at the annual meeting of that body here Saturday. Bill Williams, Regina, will be secretary for the eighth term.

Several athletes were recommended for reinstatement.

UNAVOIDABLE, BUT STILL A BIT OF "BARNUM WAS RIGHT" STUFF

This year in the National Hockey League there are only eight teams, due to the dropping of Ottawa and Philadelphia. But the play-offs remain the same, which is as much as to say that the eight teams play out a full schedule of forty-eight games in order to eliminate two teams, one in each group.

Frank Calder, president of the N.H.L., explains the situation by declaring that it is to be done this way for only a year as he expects to have two new teams back in the league next year to replace the defunct organizations. He says that it would cause too much confusion if the play-off system were changed, and rules that the two leading teams will meet for the championship of the league, while the second and third place teams will fight it out for the right to challenge the winner for possession of the Stanley Cup. All of which is not a bad way of making sure that the hockey season will be a financial success in at least six of the eight cities represented. No doubt the club owners have a good deal to say about this at the last meeting of the N.H.L., and Frank Calder can hardly be blamed, if indeed, there is any blame. But it is a little of those so-called world's wrestling championship bouts.

Varsity Gridders Take Western Title By a Single Point

Capture Intercollegiate Championship For Second Time in Three Years by 4 to 3 Victory Over University of Manitoba in Vancouver on Saturday; Doug McIntyre and Art Murdoch Outstanding; Sarnia Imperials Win Ontario Crown

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—Dr. Gordon Burke and Joe Price reaped their reward for a season of hard work Saturday. University of B.C. Canadian football team, underdogs of the Big Four schedule, swept to the heights by inspiration, defeated the previously unbeaten University of Manitoba team 4 to 3 to win the Western Canada Intercollegiate Rugby championship and the Hardy Cup for the second time in three years.

Little Doug McIntyre and Art Murdoch played sensational rugby in the backfield for U.B.C. on a field that was ankle deep in mud, and with a ball that was no easier to control than a greased pig. They made the best of their opportunities, with Murdoch turning in a display of kicking unsurpassed here this season, and McIntyre running hither and thither all over the field.

Big Dave Dirom pounded the line hard, and many a time his bulk and speed helped gain ground. He gave Murdoch and McIntyre much assistance. Outside wings of the Varsity team were stars, too. Bolton and Farquhar tackled well all afternoon, and practically all of B.C.'s points were scored as a result of their work behind the Manitoba goal line.

Manitoba got the first point of a thrilling game early in the first quarter, when Tomlinson hoisted one to the deadline for a rouge and one point. B.C. returned the compliment later in the quarter, when Root nailed Tomlinson behind the brown and gold line for a rouge.

Tomlinson evened up the score with a deadline hoist in the third quarter. Murdoch booted one into the stands near the end of the quarter to make the final and winning score of the game.

McIntyre and Murdoch hoisted two more to the deadline in quick succession to give B.C. a 3 to 1 lead, before Tomlinson kicked one into the stands in the second quarter, after Currie had marched the ball up the field. That made it 3 to 2 at half time.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—Slipping and alighting through a sea of mud as a grizzling rain fell on them, Sarnia Imperials left Balm Beach, Dominion champs, by the wayside and carried off the senior Ontario Football Union championship when they vanquished the Beavers, 10 to 1 Saturday at Sarnia.

By their defeat Balm Beach will have to relinquish their Dominion title without a battle, but who will capture the honors will not be determined until the champion eastern Canada squad, whichever it may be, clashes with Al Ritchie's strong Regina Roughriders.

Western University from London ended on top of the heap Saturday when the clouds cleared and from the inter-collegiate race for title honors.

McGill University entertained the Mustangs at home and gave the biggest surprise of the day by conquering the leaders 9 to 1 as the season schedule closed. But as Toronto University put the finishing touches on Queen's University by overwhelming them 17 to 0, westerners only maintained their one point lead but took the title. In the eastern semi-final, for the right to play Montreal Athletic Association, Sarnia Imperials and the Mustangs will clash.

WHEELERS WIN

In the inter-provincial union, Montreal Amateur Athletic Association closed their schedule with a clean slate, not having lost a game this season when they defeated Ottawa Roughriders 12 to 1, but it was the opposite for the Ottawans, who did not get into the column during the big four schedule.

Exiting out a 5 to 4 over Hamilton Tigers, Toronto Argonauts closed the season in a second place tie with their opponents.

McGill University captured the junior inter-collegiate rugby championship when they nosed out Varsity by 4 to 2 in Toronto, in a game replete with fumbles.

Team Makes Debut

Ossining, Nov. 16.—While 500 spectators from the "outside," including a few women, obeyed the mandate to "keep your seats and don't go near the players," Sing Sing's rugby football team made its debut yesterday to the cheers of 2,308 fellow prisoners.

Spurred by the collegiate cheering for "dear old Sing Sing" and the inspiring tunes of the inmates' band, the "insides" team romped to a 33 to 0 victory over the Ossining company of the Naval Militia's eleven.

WEST ROAD IN EASY VICTORY

West Road continued their march towards the men's senior "B" championship of the City Basketball League by downing the Normal School 46 to 22 in the feature game of Saturday night's card at the "Y" gym.

In the other games the Blue Ribbon nosed out the Harmony 22 to 21 in an exhibition women's encounter, while the Beavers made a runaway game of the intermediate match against the Navy, winning 38 to 13.

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—Strong Liverpool cables swept wheat values sharply up this morning, and on the extreme edge of the market, the close of the day was recorded at 62½, up 3½. December ended at 64 1/8 to 64½, up 3½ to 3¾; May 64 1/8 to 64½, up 3½ to 3¾; while July climbed 3½ to 3¾ to close at 62½ to 63½.

Liverpool reported a much better demand for Manitoba and this, coupled with unfavorable crop news from the Argentine, accounted for the strength in the Winnipeg market. There were reports of damage to new crops in the South American country and bullish estimates of the wheat surplus in both Australia and Argentina received a good deal of attention at Liverpool.

Trade was quite active in the early part of the session, but operations thinned out after mid-day, however, and trading from then on to the close was comparatively light.

Commission house buying was very limited.

There was a good demand for cash

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—Wheat: The wheat market opened sharply higher this morning, and on the extreme edge of the market, the close of the day was recorded at 62½, up 3½. December ended at 64 1/8 to 64½, up 3½ to 3¾; May 64 1/8 to 64½, up 3½ to 3¾; while July climbed 3½ to 3¾ to close at 62½ to 63½.

CHICAGO

(By Logan &amp; Bryan)

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Wheat: The market had a strong tone most of the session with the excellent absorptive power on the dips, final figures showing around 2½ cents above Saturday's close. Strong cables, large export sales and unfavorable Argentine news were the principal influences.

Offerings were on the light side with the market showing signs of being pretty well liquidated, while hedging sales were also small. The market held steady, and was able to recover from the dips, displaying a good undertone with a better and more friendly feeling following the recent decline of 11 cents from the high. Export sales showed an improvement over the past two weeks about 750,000 bushels being traceable out of this market, while seaboard reported sales in all positions at over 1,000,000 bushels, largely Manitoba.

Cash market dull with little changing hands. Offerings light. No change in the flour market. Private reports from France stated the country would need to import 50,000,000 bushels from North America in addition to what they took from Yugoslavia. The French potato crop is reported to be worse than previously estimated.

There were reports that the frost in Argentina had done considerable damage, and that the exports in both Argentina and Australia will be around 80,000,000 bushels in both countries. The weather has been unfavorable in Italy, and has delayed seeding. Buying

CRUISE STAFF FOR BRITAIN IS ANNOUNCED

Fourteen Experienced World Travelers Will Care For Passengers on Coming Voyage

A staff of fourteen assistant cruise directors, entertainers, organizers, a lecturer and an artist has been assembled under the leadership of E. Henderson, veteran cruise director of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Limited, to superintend that company's world cruise by the new 42,500-ton Empress of Britain, leaving New York December 8.

Four New Yorkers and four Montreals are among the entertainment staff. New York sending Mr. Henderson as chief director. Mr. A. M. Camp, organizer of entertainment, who has made six round-the-world cruises, Mr. de Muth, lecturer and artist, and Mrs. de Muth, also an artist, will be assistant organizers of entertainment. The Montreals including Dalton Jones, with five Mediterranean, two round-the-world and a West Indies cruise to his credit; C. J. Hull, veteran of two round-the-world tours, and G. L. Harrington. Among the other directors and assistants are N. H. Everett, Los Angeles, making his fifth tour of the world; A. G. Booker, Chicago, who has made two globe-circling voyages, and T. L. Sawyer, St. Louis, who already has visited most of the thirty ports at which the Empress of Britain will call on her first tour of the world.

From the C.P.R.'s London office comes R. N. Jones, who has 24,216 miles of Mediterranean experience, and A. H. Edmondson, who was assistant cruise director on the Duchess of Richmond's voyage to the Isle of the Blest last year. From Paris, W. F. L. Smith, continental representative, will be making his second tour of the world. Mr. Henderson, head of the directors' staff, himself has cruised a staggering total of 149,825 miles in five Mediterranean and three Canadian Pacific world cruises.

Around the Docks

From San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, the Pacific Steamship Company's liner Dorothy Alexander is expected at the Rithet pier this evening about 10 o'clock with passengers and cargo. She sailed from San Francisco on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and will proceed to Seattle about midnight to-night.

The Royal Mail Steam Packet vessel Loch Goll is expected here Thursday morning from Rotterdam and London by way of the Panama Canal and California ports. A. P. Moffatt, local agent, was advised this morning. The ship is scheduled to sail from San Francisco direct for Victoria this evening. She has seventy-five tons of general cargo for this port.

The Salvage King has a long job ahead of her to raise the sunken tugboat Kyquod from the swirling waters of Forster Pass, off the Pacific Salvage Company pier, said this morning. The tide makes work extremely difficult and preparations to float the sunken craft will take a week or ten days, it is expected.

"Bud" Birse of the Seattle office of the Pacific Steamship Company is spending two weeks in Victoria, taking the place in the company's office here of Leslie Felling, who is on vacation. Mr. Birse often comes to Victoria to relieve the local employees and says he likes his short sojourns here very much. He has many friends in other transportation offices here.

The cableship Restorer will arrive at her berth at the Rithet pier late to-morrow evening or first thing Wednesday morning from the Hawaiian Islands, where she has been for the last six weeks, repairing the cable there. Yesterday evening at 8 o'clock her wireless operator reported to the Gonzales wireless station that the ship was 581 miles from Victoria. Capt. C. M. C. Fleming is in command.

On her way to the West Indies, Hallifax and Boston, the Canadian National liner Prince Henry will sail from Victoria at noon next Sunday. She will leave Vancouver at midnight Saturday and arrive here first thing Sunday morning, remaining four hours to embark passengers. It is expected there will be 200 passengers aboard for the twenty-three-day cruise through the canal to the Atlantic here from Australia will be the motorliner Aorangi, which sailed from Sydney last Thursday. After calls at Auckland, Suva and Honolulu, the ship will arrive on December 3 or 4.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Four large off-shore tugs will arrive here during the coming week. To-day the Panama Pacific liner, California, brought a list of winter tourists from New York and Central American ports and the President Wilson of the Dollar Line arrived from New York with cargo and passengers.

Wednesday the Ventura of the Matson Line Australia-South Seas Line, will be the most important arrival. Thursday the N.Y.K. liner Chichibu Maru will arrive from Yokohama with a $1,000,000 cargo of raw silk and heavy shipments of Christmas toys for the American trade.

CATTLE BOUND FOR FAR EAST

Twenty-five Head of Purebred Ayrshire Milk Cows to Be Shipped From Vancouver

Montreal, Nov. 16.—Bound for Hong-kong, twenty-five head of purebred Ayrshire milk cows left eastern Canada to-day on a journey of nearly 8,000 miles. These migrant cattle have been selected from prize herds in the Dundas area of Ontario and the Huntingdon-Howick districts of Quebec by David Hunter, field man for the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association. They will spend the next eight days in two Canadian National Railway cars bound for Vancouver, and during the transatlantic journey will be attended by two experienced herdsmen.

At Vancouver they will be transferred to a liner to complete the remaining 5,500 miles of their journey at sea. These cows are to be used for breeding purposes by the Dairy Ice and Cold Storage Company of Hong-kong, and to supply high-grade milk for the white settlement of that city. The present shipment is in the nature of an experiment, which if successful will probably lead to further exports of Canadian cattle to the Orient. In addition to the eastern Ayrshires, a further consignment of British Columbia Holsteins also will go forward to Hong-kong this month.

Bee Shipment Is Being Made To the Orient

Edmonton, Nov. 16.—Something new in Canadian export trade with the Orient, and likely to have far-reaching effect, will be inaugurated this week when C. George Reidel of Taber, Alta., will ship 1,200 colonies of screened bees and their accompanying queens from the province of Alberta to China. The Canadian Pacific Railway, in charge of the unique shipment, has arranged for the transport of the bees and their accompanying queens from the province of Alberta to China. The queen of the British Columbia-Oriental trade.

Imagine the distance on Douglas Street, from Yates Street intersection to the Hudson's Bay store, and the approximate length of this giant Cunarder can be visualized. The ship is 1,018 feet long. The vastness of the "534" is interior space is shown by the fact that ten miles of carpet will be laid on the passenger decks. A gyroscopic invention has been perfected which will stabilize the ship and keep her from rolling or pitching.

The speed of this ocean greyhound will be thirty-five knots.

Mr. Reidel has already made two shipments of bees to China from his California apiaries, and is now taking leave of Alberta from his firm for five years, and will accompany the present shipment of 1,200 three-frame nuclei from Alberta, and will demonstrate modern Canadian and American methods of bee culture in the Orient. By means of this experiment, it is expected, says Mr. Reidel, that the lives of the industrious little workers in the hive will be spared to continue in the work of conserving the food of the flowers for the benefit of humanity.

Of the 1,200 colonies will have its pure-bred Italian queen.

NOW BEING FILLED WITH PRAIRIE GRAIN

Grain is pouring every day into the grain elevator at Ogden Point. Saturday evening there were 48,000 bushels in the giant bins and before this evening it is expected there will be another 40,000 bushels. Grain will arrive daily from the mainland until the elevator is filled to capacity. There is room for 1,000,000 bushels. Grain comes here by way of Patricia Bay and Point Ellice or direct by barge from Port Mann, the Canadian National terminal on the mainland. To handle the grain movement here a staff of twenty-three men is now being employed at the elevator.

PLAN LAUNCH OF CUNARD IN FEBRUARY

No. "534," by which the giant Cunarder now building on the Clyde is known, will possibly be launched in February of next year and placed in commission by the spring of 1933, according to C. A. Whitlock, British Columbia manager of the Cunard Line, who was in the city Saturday from Vancouver.

The new ship will be a 73,000-tonner, practically three times the size of the Empress of Japan, the queen of the British Columbia-Oriental trade.

Imagine the distance on Douglas Street, from Yates Street intersection to the Hudson's Bay store, and the approximate length of this giant Cunarder can be visualized. The ship is 1,018 feet long. ## President Cleveland Due From Orient On Wednesday Morning

Is Behind Schedule; Empress of Russia Will Sail Out-bound Saturday Evening

It will probably be Wednesday morning before the American Mailer President Cleveland docks here from ports in the Philippine Islands, China and Japan. She was seventeen hours late in leaving Yokohama, and has been unable to make up time during the voyage because of rough weather on the Pacific. She was originally scheduled to arrive here to-morrow morning.

For Victoria the President Cleveland has 200 tons of general cargo, including some raw silk. There are also passengers aboard, several of whom will disembark here and proceed to Canadian destinations. After completing business here the ship will proceed to Seattle to terminate her voyage.

Outbound to the Orient, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia will sail from the Rithet pier Saturday evening with a good list of passengers and a capacity cargo. She will sail from Vancouver at 11 o'clock in the morning and arrive here at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to spend two hours putting to sea.

Subsequent to the Empress of Russia will arrive here first thing Sunday morning.

Joe E. Brown Playing At Capitol Theatre

Popular and Clever Comedian Heads Splendid Cast in "Local Boy Makes Good," Which Will Show Three Days

KAY FRANCIS AT COLISEUM

Talented Leading Lady Starring With Ricardo Cortez in "Transgression"

He knew that she had deceived him—that her heart had wavered from strict loyalty and that it had stood poised for one short moment in the keeping of another man. Yet he had faith in her—the faith that moves mountains and knows no ill of womankind. And so he refused to believe that she had wronged him, or that it was wrong for her to even momentarily love another. He forgave her with his whole soul. This is the stirring dramatic situation which Kay Francis and Paul Cavanagh enact in Radio Pictures' "Transgression," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre.

Joe E. Brown, star of "Local Boy Makes Good," the first National picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre, may well be called the beloved comic—for the place he has secured in the hearts of the young and the young-hearted—is as secure as that of his friend, Charlie Chaplin. The reasons are not hard to find. In the first place Joe is funny. His fun is always honest, hard-hitting fun, without a trace of malice in it. Brown was famous for many years on the stage and in vaudeville, his most famous play being "Twinkle, Twinkle." He essayed a couple of silent pictures, but did not care for the screen until the talkies came in. First National-Warner Bros. instantly recognized his genius as a comedian. He was signed for an important role in "On With the Show," the first all-natural-color talking picture, and scored an instant hit. The current picture is not slap-stick comedy, and though Joe E. gets as many laughs as ever, he goes about it in a different way. "Local Boy Makes Good" is based on a very human play by J. C. and Elliott Nugent.

estate operations and financial affairs. Nothing could be further from the truth. Miss Roland withdrew temporarily from the screen at the height of her career as the star of the best serial ever made because of the tendency on the part of the producers of serials to cheapen their production; having set a certain standard in the way her pictures were made, she felt it was unfair to her loyal friends to let her name be associated with cheaper things.

"ROBIN HOOD" RECALLS GALA PLAY IN 1899

Many Well-known People in Victoria Played in de Koven Opera Thirty-two Years Ago

The forthcoming production of de Koven's light opera, "Robin Hood," by the Victoria Operatic Society at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings, November 27 and 28, recalls the gala performances of that delightful work in Victoria on April 14 and 15, 1899, in the old Victoria Theatre on View Street.

There are many people still in Victoria who remember those performances and are looking forward to the local production this month. Not since 1899 has the opera been played by local talent, although professional companies have brought it here once or twice.

Referring to that production, thirty-two years ago, The Times of that date spoke most flatteringly of the entire production and the players, many of whom are in Victoria to-day. In part The Times said: "Of the performance yesterday evening nothing but complimentary words can be written. Approaching very close to the line which separates grand opera from comic opera, Robin Hood is a much heavier work than any of the others produced by amateurs this season. Some of the music reaches a standard rarely set, and the manner in which these numbers were given reflected the very greatest credit upon performers, and not less upon those who are responsible for the training of the singers."

F. Victor Austin, well-known in musical circles of Victoria in those days, and now a resident of New York, had charge of the excellent orchestra. F. Finch-Smiles was responsible for the staging. The late James Pilling, the possessor of a fine tenor, was the Robin Hood of that eventful production. Miss Alma Russell was Maid Marian, Mrs. Herbert Kent was Dame Durden, Herbert Kent was Little John, William A. Allen was Friar Tuck, the late Harry Moxam was the Sheriff, G. A. Wood was Sir Guy of Gisborne, E. Grinnell was Will Scarlett, Miss Clark was Alan-a-Dale, and Miss Ken Lugin (now Mrs. A. deB. Shaw) was Annabel.

In the chorus were Mesdames Wallace and Welch, the Mesdames Sehl (now Mrs. E. S. Dodsidge, London), Rachel McMicking, Colquhoun, Florence Hayward (Mrs. Walter S. Fraser), M. Kettle, Houghton, D. Houghton, Dolly Sehl (now Mrs. Charles E. Wilson), E. C. Austin, Stewart, D. Colquhoun and M. Gowen (Mrs. M. Watkins); Messrs. Hibben, Lou Wilders, Lang, Robertson, Woodward, Mills, Little, Fred Richardson, Philip Johnston, Percy Johnston, W. T. Williams, Wiffen, Oliver, Heygate, Janion, Welch, Wilkinson, Bayntun, York and B. W. Powell.

The orchestra was composed of T. R. Smith, Miss A. Brown, Benedict Tully, E. A. Powell, who had the first violin; Major Trotter, Miss Lobb, Mrs. Foot, R. B. Powell, second violin; Jessa Longfield, R. Rochon, violin; contra-basso, C. G. Hitt; flute, Fred Morse; clarionets, R. Raush, E. Muriat; cornets, Miss Rochon, W. Duck; trombone, W. Douglas; drums, R. Wilkinson, and accompanists, Mrs. H. Welch-Windle and Miss C. Christie.

Thrilling Stunts Seen In "Dirigible" Showing At Columbia Theatre

Many Daring Acts Performed By Players in Epic Story of Air Machines

Any fool can fall out of a racing automobile or off the top of a five-story building and kill himself, but it takes a trained and experienced person to make the hazardous leap without fatal injuries. In the movies studios, stunt men are highly respected and well paid. Their daring escapades add fascination to the pictures in which they appear. This is particularly apparent in "Dirigible," Columbia Pictures' epic of the air, which is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

In this picture, the stunting actors fly a plane upside down, zoom through the open door of a hangar and out again on the other side, make parachute leaps from a dirigible to the arctic wastes below and indulge in other breath-taking stunts. All of these are authentic and bespeak ability and an utter lack of "nerves" on the part of the performing artists.

Madge Evans Starring With Lionel Barrymore

Dominion Theatre Showing Weird Mystery Play "Guilty Hands"; Miss Evans Is Well-known Actress

Assignment of Madge Evans to play the leading lady role with Lionel Barrymore in "Guilty Hands," Bayard Vellier's new mystery drama now playing at the Dominion Theatre, brought back memories of her first grownup role to this former child star. Miss Evans began her motion picture career when she was six years old in "The Little Duchess," for six years a star in her own name with the old World Film company. When she outgrew the child roles and prepared for her stage debut, she paused in pictures long enough to play her first leading lady part. It was with John Barrymore in the silent picture of the play "Peter Ibbetson." She was just thirteen at the time. "It seems so strange that I should begin my grownup roles with John and eight years later find myself playing opposite his brother Lionel in one of my first talking pictures," she said.

MALE CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERT

Olive Kurth, Contralto, to Assist Local Men's Chorus in Concert November 25

The music-loving public of Victoria is assured of a real treat when Olive V. Kurth, contralto, appears on the concert platform with Rita Ormiston McNeil as accompanist at the City Temple auditorium, North Park Street, by the Victoria Male Choir on Wednesday evening, November 25. Miss Kurth has an unusual range and beauty of voice. She also possesses that indefinable charm—style and personality that gains and holds the interest of her audience. As a concert and oratorio artist Miss Kurth has endeavored herself to the public in no uncertain manner. A musical authority of Chicago recently said, after one of her appearances: "She has a little of everything in her voice—dramatic, lyric, coloratura, mezzo soprano and contralto—but it is within the contralto range that her voice possesses greatest beauty."

VERDICT OF GUILTY

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—Nelson Hughes, youthful Indian student, late Saturday was found guilty of conspiracy in connection with the burning of the Cross Lake Indian residential school, in which thirteen lives were lost. Sentence will be passed at the end of the assizes.

George Paynter, an accomplice, several weeks ago pleaded guilty to setting fire to the structure and was sentenced to life imprisonment.
